INTRODUCTION TO THE PUBLIC ACCOUNTS

Nature of the Public Accounts

The Public Accounts is the report of the Government of Canada prepared each fiscal year by the Receiver General as required by Section 55 of the Financial Administration Act.

The report covers the fiscal year of the Government, which ends on March 31, and is prepared from data contained in the accounts of Canada and from more detailed records maintained in departments and agencies. The accounts of Canada is the centralized record of the Government's financial transactions maintained by the Receiver General in which the transactions of all departments and agencies are summarized. Each department and agency is responsible for agreeing its accounts to the control accounts of the Receiver General, and for maintaining detailed records of the transactions in their accounts.

The report covers the financial transactions of the Government during the year. In certain cases, parliamentary authority to undertake transactions was provided by legislation approved in earlier years.

Format of the Public Accounts

The Public Accounts is produced in three volumes.

Volume I presents a summary analysis of the financial transactions of the Government. Its content is summarized as follows:

SECTION 1: financial overview and an eight-year summary of the Government's financial transactions;

SECTION 2: audited financial statements of the Government of Canada, prepared in accordance with Section 55 of the Financial Administration Act;

SECTION 3: observations by the Auditor General on the financial statements;

SECTION 4: review of budgetary revenue;

SECTION 5: review of Estimates and appropriations;

SECTION 6: review of budgetary expenditure;

SECTION 7: analysis of consolidated specified purpose accounts;

SECTION 8: analysis of loans, investments and advances;

SECTION 9: analysis of specified purpose accounts;

SECTION 10: analysis of other liabilities;

SECTION 11: analysis of foreign exchange accounts;

SECTION 12: analysis of unmatured debt; and,

SECTION 13: analysis of other information related to the financial statements.

Volume II is published in two parts. Part I presents the financial operations of the Government, segregated by ministry while Part II presents additional information and analyses.

(a) PART I

Part I is designed to reflect as closely as possible the form and content of Part II of the Main Estimates. Most tables and statements in Part I display the source and disposition of spending authorities. The content of Part I is summarized as follows:

(i) Summary Tables (Section 1)

Section 1 includes tables which provide summaries of the financial operations contained in the ministerial sections. It also includes, as appendices, the full wording of all authorities granted in current year Appropriation Acts, of all non-lapsing authorities granted in the current year, and of all authorities available from previous years.

(ii) Ministerial Sections (Sections 2 to 28)

There is one section for each ministry. The programs for the departments and agencies for which a Minister is responsible to Parliament are grouped together to provide a total ministry presentation. Each ministerial section provides a statement of program objectives and activity descriptions. Each ministerial section also includes, where applicable, a uniform set of statements to present each ministry's financial operations. These statements are:

- Ministry Summary

This statement displays by program the source and disposition of each budgetary and non-budgetary authority granted by Parliament in Appropriation Acts and other statutes.

- Programs by Activity

This statement displays by program the source and disposition of authorities for each activity under each type of expenditure (operating, capital, transfer payments and non-budgetary).

- Transfer Payments

This statement displays by program the source and disposition of authorities for each transfer payment.

- Details of Amounts Credited to the Vote

This statement displays by program the nature of revenues and receipts which increase the amounts which may be spent from appropriations having net voting authority.

- Revenue

This statement displays by program the nature of revenue collected for each main classification of revenue.

(b) PART II

Part II presents additional information and analyses. The content of Part II is summarized as follows:

- financial statements of revolving funds (Section 1);
- financial statements of departmental corporations and other entities (Section 2);
- supplementary information required by the Financial Administration Act (Section 3);

- accounts receivable (Section 4);
- professional and special services (Section 5);
- construction and acquisition of land, buildings, works, machinery and equipment (Section 6);
- transfer payments (Section 7);
- public debt charges (Section 8);
- payments of damage claims, ex gratia payments, Federal Court awards and nugatory payments (Section 9);
- federal-provincial shared-cost programs (Section 10);
- other Government-wide information (Section 11); and,
- other miscellaneous information (Section 12).

Volume III contains an annual consolidated report on the businesses and activities of all parent Crown corporations together with a listing of all Crown corporations and other corporate interests of Canada.

INTRODUCTION

This section provides an overview of the financial operations of the Government of Canada. The financial transactions of the Government are set out in summary form, with comparative figures for the previous seven years. The financial transactions are provided in accordance with the accounting policies explained in Note 1 to the audited financial statements in Section 2 of this volume.

The statements reflect the accounting basis introduced in the February 1986 Budget whereby the transactions of certain specified purpose and other accounts are reported as part of budgetary transactions rather than non-budgetary transactions. These include the Exchange Fund Account, the Unemployment Insurance Account, the Canadian Ownership Account, the Western Grain Stabilization Account, the Crop Reinsurance Fund, the Agricultural Commodities Stabilization Accounts and the Oil Export Charges Revenue Sharing Account. In addition, loans to developing countries are recorded as a budgetary expenditure, and revenue and expenditure are reported net of transactions internal to the Government.

FINANCIAL OVERVIEW

This part provides an overview of the Government's financial operations. More details are provided under "Supplementary Financial Information" in this section and in Section 2 of this volume.

1986-87—THE YEAR IN RETROSPECT

The Deficit and the Net Debt

The fiscal year 1986-87 closed with a deficit of $30,605 million, a reduction of $3,799 million from the 1985-86 deficit of $34,404 million. The year-over-year reduction in the deficit reflects continued strength in economic activity and the impact and timing of past budget measures. As a percentage of Gross Domestic Product, the deficit declined to 6% from 7.2% in 1985-86 and from 8.6% in 1984-85.

The 1986-87 reduction in the deficit has resulted in a reduction in the rate of growth of the accumulated deficit or net debt. As at March 31, 1987, the net debt was $264,101 million or 13.1% above the March 31, 1986 level of $233,496 million, as compared to a 17.3% increase in the net debt for the 1985-86 fiscal year.

Table 1.1 sets out the deficit and net debt over the last eight fiscal years, both in absolute terms and as a percentage of Gross Domestic Product for the calendar year ending in that fiscal year.

Factors Affecting the Deficit

The reduction in the deficit largely reflects the strength in the economy, which has resulted in higher revenues and has restrained the growth in expenditures. As well, savings from the expenditure reduction initiatives put in place since the fall of 1984, coupled with the impact of tax measures introduced in the May 1985 and February 1986 budgets, also contributed to the improvement in the deficit outcome for 1986-87.

The largest component of budgetary revenue, personal income tax, accounted for about one-half of the total increase in revenue. About three-quarters of this increase in personal income tax revenue was attributable to the strong advances in employment with the remainder due to the impact of past budget measures. Strong advances in consumption, coupled with the broadening of the sales tax base and increases in the sales and gasoline tax rates, resulted in higher sales and excise taxes while higher profits in the non-energy sector, as well as the impact of past budget measures, contributed to the increase in corporation income tax. Unemployment insurance contributions were also up. In addition, non-tax revenue was higher reflecting a substantial increase in Exchange Fund Account profits which resulted partly from increased gold sales and partly from reduced valuation losses. The increase in non-tax revenue also reflected capital gains on assets sales resulting from the Government's policy of privatization with respect to the sale of Canadian Arsenals, Canadair and shares of the Canada Development Corporation.

On the expenditure side, program expenditures advanced by 4.6%, while public debt charges increased by 4.8%. The increase in program expenditures largely reflected higher payments under social assistance programs, increased assistance to farmers, as well as higher spending under defence and foreign aid. Spending on other components of program expenditures remained restrained, reflecting the strength in the economy as well as Government initiatives for cost reductions through better management and the streamlining of expenditures through a reduction and rationalization of selected program expenditures. The substantial improvement in public debt charges reflected both the control over the growth in financial requirements as well as lower interest rates.

Table 1.2 sets out movements in revenue, expenditure and the deficit over the last eight fiscal years.

Financial Requirements

As a result of the $3,799 million reduction in the deficit and a $4,904 million increase in net receipts from non-budgetary transactions, financial requirements excluding foreign exchange transactions were down $8,703 million in 1986-87, at $21,567 million. In addition, there were $6,390 million of requirements for 1986-87 foreign exchange transactions, bringing total 1986-87 financial requirements to $27,957 million. These requirements were financed by a $27,831 million increase in unmaturing debt transactions, and a $126 million running down of cash balances.

Table 1.3 sets out the financial requirements over the last eight fiscal years.

Budgetary Transactions

Revenue

Total budgetary revenue increased $8,953 million or 11.7% to $85,783 million in 1986-87. Tax revenue increased $8,262 million while non-tax revenue increased $691 million.

Personal income tax revenue increased $4,870 million or 14.8% compared to 12.8% in 1985-86. About three-quarters of the growth in 1986-87 was accounted for by the strength in the economy, with the remainder due to past budget measures. These measures included the elimination of the federal tax reduction in 1986, the restriction of the indexation of the personal income tax exemptions and tax brackets to the annual increase in the Consumer Price Index that exceeds 3% beginning in 1986, the imposition of a 5% and 10% surtax on basic federal tax in excess of $6,000 and $15,000 respectively, effective July 1, 1985 to December 31, 1986, and the introduction of the 3% surtax on basic federal tax effective July 1, 1986. The impact of these measures was partially offset by the introduction of the refundable sales tax credit.

Corporate income tax collections were $9,885 million in 1986-87 or $675 million (7.3%) above the 1985-86 level of $9,210 million. The increase in corporate tax collections reflects higher profits in the non-energy sector as well as the impact of past budget measures.

Unemployment insurance contributions grew 9.6% or $839 million in 1986-87 due to strong employment growth over the fiscal year, as well as an increase in the level of insurable earnings.

Sales and excise taxes and duties increased $2,905 million or 18% to $19,048 million in 1986-87. Increases of one percentage point in the federal sales tax rates, effective January 1, 1986 and again April 1, 1986, broadening of the tax base and an increase in consumer and business spending in 1986 account for the $2,627 million or 28.1% increase in sales tax revenue in 1986-87. The 2.2% increase in excise duties and other excise taxes reflects increases in alcohol and tobacco taxes in 1986-87. Customs import duties increased to $4,187 million in 1986-87, a 5.4% increase over 1985-86 due to the temporary imposition of tariffs on specific U.S. imports, effective June 6, 1986 to February 19, 1987, and continued growth in imports in 1986.

Energy-related tax revenue was $1,383 million lower at $1,965 million compared to $3,348 million in 1985-86. The elimination and phase-out of the various energy-related taxes, as stipulated under the Western Energy Accord and subsequent elimination of the petroleum and gas revenue tax, effective October 1, 1986, account for the decline in energy revenue. The decline in energy revenue was offset by a $550 million increase in gasoline excise tax revenue reflecting increases in the gasoline excise tax rates.

Non-tax revenue increased by $691 million in 1986-87 from the 1985-86 level of $5,223 million, reflecting a $871 million increase in Exchange Fund Account profits.

Expenditure

Total budgetary expenditure in 1986-87 increased 4.6% to $116,388 million compared to increases of 1.8% in 1985-86 and 13% in 1984-85. Total program expenditures—that is, total Government spending excluding public debt charges—also increased by 4.6% or $3,937 million in 1986-87 to $89,730 million.

Public debt charges rose $1,217 million, or 4.8%, to $26,658 million in 1986-87. Interest rates on average, were well below the 1985-86 average levels which in large measure accounted for the decline in the growth rate of public debt charges from 13.3% in 1985-86.

The Social Development envelope accounts for about 61% of program expenditures and includes such programs as old age security, unemployment insurance benefits, Established Programs Financing, the Canada Assistance Plan (CAP), family allowances, courts and correctional services, job creation and training, social and economic assistance to native peoples, housing, veterans benefits, and other social expenditures. In 1986-87, the envelope increased 5.3% or $2,750 million to $54,569 million mainly because old age security payments, including guaranteed income supplements and spouses' allowances, increased 7.3% to $13,445 million. Unemployment insurance benefits increased by $408 million and social assistance payments to native groups increased $289 million. The growth of CAP expenditures in 1986-87 was somewhat restrained due to the recovery of prior year overpayments made to the Province of Quebec.

The Services to Government envelope declined $471 million or 10.6% in 1986-87. This decline was more than accounted for by last year's special payment of $791 million to uninsured depositors of the Canadian Commercial and Northland banks.

National Defence expenditures rose $912 million or 10% to $10,006 million in 1986-87. This growth reflects Canada's commitment to its NATO allies as well as special factors relating to the provision for valuation and the netting of expenditure internal to the Government.

In 1986-87, the Economic and Regional Development envelope decreased $26 million to $11,792 million. Most of this decrease resulted from the elimination or phase-out of various energy related programs as prescribed under the Western Energy Accord. Payments under the Petroleum Incentive Program declined $522 million to $948 million in 1986-87, from $1,500 million in 1985-86. The Petroleum Compensation Account recorded a surplus of $2 million in 1986-87 compared to the previous year's surplus of $136 million. Declines in expenditure were recorded in other energy-related programs as well as in the Ministry of Transport resulting from the November 1984 and May 1985 reduction exercises. Offsetting much of these declines were substantially higher payments under the various farm programs, including the Western Grain Stabilization Account, the Western Grain Transportation Act, and payments to cover operating deficits of the Canadian Wheat Board.

The External Affairs and Aid envelope increased 16.1% or $402 million in 1986-87 to $2,892 million. This increase largely reflects Canada's commitment to increase its Official Development Assistance disbursements at 0.5% of the Gross National Product and special factors relating to the encashment of notes.

The Fiscal Arrangements envelope increased by 6.1% or $361 million to $6,302 million as equalization transfer payments totalling $5,702 million were $544 million higher than last year. This largely reflects the impact of the robust economic growth in Ontario which raises the five-Province standard used in the equalization formula.

Non-budgetary Transactions

As in earlier years, the 1986-87 non-budgetary transactions provided a substantial source of funds amounting to $9,038 million. The source of funds includes $1,386 million from loans, investments and advances, $6,696 million from specified purpose accounts and $956 million from other non-budgetary transactions.

The net repayment of loans, investments and advances includes net repayments of loans by the Farm Credit Corporation ($591 million) and net repayments by the Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation ($254 million).

Within the specified purpose accounts category, the superannuation accounts ($4,995 million) continued to provide the bulk of net receipts in 1986-87. In addition, Canada Pension Plan monies were substantial in 1986-87 ($1,556 million) reflecting principally the federal take-up of surplus funds not borrowed by the provinces ($1,342 million).

The 1986-87 net source of funds in the other non-budgetary transactions reflects a decrease in cash in transit of $225 million and a $500 million increase in the allowance for unrecorded liabilities.

Table 1.4 summarizes non-budgetary transactions over the last eight fiscal years.

SUPPLEMENTARY FINANCIAL INFORMATION

This part provides an eight-year comparative summary of the Government's financial transactions, both on the Public Accounts basis and on the National Accounts basis. The Public Accounts presentation reflects the accounting policies explained in Note 1 to the audited financial statements in Section 2 of this volume. The National Accounts presentation is designed primarily to facilitate economic analysis of the federal Government sector on a basis consistent with that used in measuring income and expenditure flows in the economy.

Public Accounts Presentation

The "Summary Statement of Transactions" (Table 1.5) provides aggregate data on the major categories of transactions under four main headings: budgetary, non-budgetary, foreign exchange and unmatured debt. The resulting cash position at the end of each year is also shown.

Preceding the Detailed Statement of Non-Budgetary Transactions (Table 1.9) is a Comparative Statement of Financial Assets and Liabilities (Table 1.8) presented for the first time this year.

National Accounts Presentation

The National Income and Expenditure Accounts were developed as a basis for economic analysis of income and expenditure flows in the economy. The concepts and definitions applied to the Government sector are consistent with those applied to other sectors and follow international practices developed under the aegis of the United Nations. The economic nature of a transaction is the determining factor in its classification within the National Accounts framework. In 1986-87, the National Accounts deficit declined by $3,154 million or 11.3% from the 1985-86 level. This reflects a 9.2% increase in revenue and a 4.2% increase in expenditure. As with the 1985-86 decline in the deficit, the 1986-87 decline reflects Government initiatives for expenditure restraint as well as increased revenue resulting from a stronger economy in 1986-87.

⁽¹⁾ These "National Accounts transactions" are consistent with those released by Statistics Canada on August 31, 1987.

Public Accounts and National Accounts Reconciliation

The reconciliation of transactions between the Public Accounts and National Accounts is set out in the table that follows. The major factors which give rise to the need for a reconciliation are listed below.

The deficits of Government business enterprises which are outside the Government accounting entity are, for Public Accounts presentation purposes, met through budgetary appropriations and are thus recorded as budgetary expenditure. In the National Accounts presentation, these deficits, are netted against Government investment income.

Revenue in the Public Accounts is recorded on a cash basis. While the major portion of National Accounts revenue is accounted for on a cash basis, certain items, such as corporate income taxes and the oil export charges, are reported on an accrual basis.

Transactions of employee pension accounts are treated as non-budgetary in the Public Accounts, although the Government's contributions to, and interest payments on these accounts are also included in expenditure. Employer and employee contributions to these accounts, plus any related interest income, form part of Government revenue in the National Accounts presentation, and pension payments form part of Government expenditure.

In the Public Accounts presentation, the purchase of capital assets such as buildings and machinery is recorded as a budgetary expenditure in the year of acquisition. Only newly produced capital assets and capital expenditures are included in National Accounts expenditure. The National Accounts also ignore the sale of capital assets as such sales are not deemed to give rise to production. Both Government revenue and expenditure include an allowance for the depreciation of capital assets in the National Accounts termed "Capital consumption allowance". This item is not a part of Public Accounts reporting.

The National Accounts includes certain Government agencies which are not part of the Public Accounts. The financial transactions of those agencies are included in National Accounts revenue and expenditure.

PREFACE TO THE AUDITED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF CANADA

The fundamental purpose of the financial statements is to provide information to Parliament and thus to the public, to facilitate an understanding and evaluation of:

- the full nature and extent of the financial affairs and resources for which the Government is responsible, distinguishing between those of the Government and those relating to Crown corporations; and
- whether the financial resources were administered by the Government in accordance with the dollar limits established by the appropriate legislative authorities.

The two basic concepts underlying the Government's accounting system are found in the Constitution Acts: first, the concept of the Consolidated Revenue Fund, which emanates from the requirement that all duties and revenues received, other than those reserved to the provinces, "shall form One Consolidated Revenue Fund"; second, the concept that the balance of the Fund, after certain prior charges, "shall be appropriated by the Parliament of Canada".

The financial statements consist of four statements and accompanying notes. The first statement is the Statement of Transactions, which shows how the financial requirements were met, and the effect of the transactions on the Consolidated Revenue Fund. The financial transactions are classified into the following categories:

- The first category, budgetary, consists of all the transactions with outside parties which enter into the calculation of the annual deficit or surplus of the Government, that is, the receipts from tax revenue, non-tax revenue, together with the expenditures authorized by Parliament.
- The second category, non-budgetary, consists of transactions in loans, investments and advances, in liabilities for the administration of certain public money received or collected for special purposes, and in other liabilities. These transactions account for the change in the financial claims and obligations of the Government.
- The third category, foreign exchange, reflects transactions in international reserves held in the Exchange Fund Account (the principal objective of which is to aid in the control and protection of the external value of the Canadian dollar) together with an accounting of the net position of the Government with respect to the International Monetary Fund. Foreign exchange transactions include unmatured debt payable in foreign currencies.
- The fourth category, unmatured debt, represents the extent to which financial requirements have been met through the increase in unmatured debt, that is, the net change in amounts owing for marketable bonds, Canada savings bonds, special non-marketable bonds issued to the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund and Treasury bills. Unmatured debt transactions exclude unmatured debt payable in foreign currencies.

The second statement is the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit, which gives a more detailed accounting of the budgetary transactions summarized in the Statement of Transactions and shows the changes in the accumulated deficit for the last two years.

The third statement is the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. This statement differs in some ways from the conventional balance sheet of the private sector. Fixed assets, having been accounted for as expenditures, are reported at the nominal value of $1, and revenues not yet received, such as uncollected taxes, are not recorded as assets. It should be noted, therefore, that the difference between total financial assets and total liabilities is simply the aggregate of annual budgetary deficits and surpluses determined in accordance with the accounting policies of the Government; this difference should not be taken as the Government's net worth.

The fourth statement is the Statement of Use of Appropriations, which summarizes by ministry, the use of parliamentary appropriations for budgetary expenditure and for loans, investments and advances. Total budgetary expenditure on this statement differs from total expenditure on the Statement of Transactions and the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit. The reasons for the differences are set out in Note 1 (ix) to the financial statements.

Other sections in this volume, together with Volumes II and III of the Public Accounts, are designed to provide more detailed information supporting the financial statements.

STATEMENT OF RESPONSIBILITY

The financial statements in this section were prepared by the Government of Canada in accordance with the accounting policies set out in Note 1 to the statements and on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Responsibility for the integrity and objectivity of the financial statements rests with the Government. The financial statements are prepared under the joint direction of the President of the Treasury Board, the Minister of Finance, and the Receiver General for Canada, in compliance with governing legislation. The financial statements are prepared on a modified cash basis of accounting. Where there are departures from cash accounting, the information included in these financial statements is based on the Government's best estimates and judgement, with due consideration given to materiality. Financial information, contained elsewhere in this volume, is consistent with that in the financial statements, unless otherwise indicated.

To fulfill its accounting and reporting responsibilities, the Government maintains systems of financial management and internal control which give due consideration to costs, benefits and risks, and which are designed to provide reasonable assurance that transactions are properly authorized by Parliament, are executed in accordance with prescribed regulations, and are properly recorded so as to maintain accountability of public money and safeguard the assets and properties of Canada under Government administration. The Receiver General for Canada maintains the accounts of Canada, a centralized record of the Government's financial transactions, and obtains additional information as required, from departments, agencies and Crown corporations, to meet accounting and reporting requirements.

The Auditor General of Canada provides an independent opinion on the financial statements prepared by the Government. The duties of the Auditor General in that respect are set out in Section 6 of the Auditor General Act, SC 1976-77, C.34 which states in part that the Auditor General "shall express his opinion as to whether they (the financial statements) present fairly information in accordance with stated accounting policies of the federal government and on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year together with any reservations he may have".

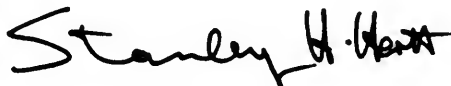

Annually, the financial statements are tabled in Parliament as part of the Public Accounts, and are referred to the Standing Committee on Public Accounts, which reports to Parliament on the results of its examination together with any recommendations it may have with respect to the financial statements and accompanying audit opinion.

On behalf of the Government of Canada.

Notes to the Financial Statements of the Government of Canada

1. Significant Accounting Policies

The accounting policies of the Government of Canada are based on concepts embodied in the Constitution Acts, and in the Financial Administration Act and other legislation.

i. Government of Canada as an accounting entity

For purposes of maintaining the accounts of Canada and preparing the Public Accounts, the Government of Canada is defined as all the departments named in Schedule A of the Financial Administration Act; any division or branch of the Public Service, including a commission appointed under the Inquiries Act, designated by the Governor in Council as a department for purposes of the Financial Administration Act; the staffs of the Senate, the House of Commons, and the Library of Parliament; and, any corporation named in Schedule B of the Financial Administration Act.

In accordance with the above definition, the corporations listed in Parts I and II of Schedule C of the Financial Administration Act, and those Crown corporations that are not subject to Divisions I to IV of Part XII of the Financial Administration Act, are excluded from the Government of Canada as an accounting entity; therefore, their financial statements are not consolidated with those of the Government. However, the borrowings of those corporations which are agents of the Crown are recorded as a liability of the Government net of borrowings expected to be repaid directly by these corporations. The financial statements of Crown corporations are presented in Volume III of the Public Accounts.

In addition, certain accounts and funds have financial statements which are not consolidated with those of the Government, but appear separately in Volumes I and II (Part II). These accounts and funds include the Canada Pension Plan Account, superannuation accounts and other specified purpose accounts.

ii. Classification of financial transactions

The financial transactions of the Government, as recorded in the accounts of Canada and reported in the Public Accounts, are classified into budgetary, non-budgetary, foreign exchange and unmatured debt transactions.

In general terms, budgetary transactions enter into the calculation of the annual deficit or surplus and are reported, after elimination of transactions internal to the Government, on the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit. All other transactions lead to the acquisition or disposal of financial claims or to the creation or discharge of financial obligations, and are disclosed on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

For purposes of reporting, the Public Accounts uses the classification in force at the end of the year to which the report refers and amounts for the previous year are reclassified retroactively to conform to the current year's accounting policies and presentation.

iii. Budgetary transactions

REVENUE

Revenue consists of all tax and non-tax receipts which affect the annual deficit or surplus of the Government.

The Government generally reports revenue in the year in which it is received, with refunds of revenue allocated to the year in which they are actually paid.

Revenue is reported after deducting refunds paid, and excludes amounts receivable, taxes collected on behalf of provinces and territories, and amounts credited to the Canada Pension Plan Account, superannuation accounts, other specified purpose accounts, and other liability accounts.

On the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit, revenue is reported both gross and net. The difference between the two is revenue from outside parties credited to appropriations.

EXPENDITURE

Expenditure consists of all charges to budgetary appropriations which affect the annual deficit or surplus of the Government. In addition, expenditure may also include charges related to the provision for valuation of loans, investments and advances, the allowance for borrowings of agent Crown corporations, and accounts payable and other allowances related to statutory items and certain annual appropriations. Such charges include those for work performed, goods received, services rendered, and transfer payments made, during the year and in the supplementary period including accounts payable at year end.

Expenditure excludes amounts charged to the Canada Pension Plan Account, superannuation accounts, other specified purpose accounts, and other liability accounts.

On the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit, expenditure is reported both gross and net. The difference between the two is revenue from outside parties credited to appropriations.

iv. Assets

Assets are defined as the financial claims acquired by the Government on outside organizations and individuals as a result of events and transactions recorded as at the closing date.

However, as a result of the Government's accounting policies described above, certain financial claims are not reported on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. The most important of these are accounts receivable for tax and non-tax revenue.

v. Liabilities

Liabilities are defined as the financial obligations of the Government to outside organizations and individuals as a result of events and transactions recorded as at the closing date.

However, as a result of the Government's accounting policies described above, and in accordance with enabling legislation, actuarial liabilities arising from the indexing to the cost of living, of superannuate pensions and annuities, are not reported on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. In addition, refunds payable for tax revenue are not reported on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

vi. Fixed assets

The fixed assets of the Government, which include land, engineering structures and works (such as canals, harbours and roads), buildings, and machinery and equipment, are charged to budgetary expenditure at the time of acquisition or construction. Their existence, however, is acknowledged on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities by reporting them at the nominal value of $1.

vii. *Valuation of assets and liabilitiesASSETS

Assets are recorded at cost and are subject to annual valuation to reflect reductions from the recorded value to the estimated realizable value. In the case of loans to sovereign states, the recorded value is the estimated realizable value unless a sovereign state has formally repudiated its debts. In addition, the allowance for valuation reflects reductions from the recorded value of loans (and subscriptions to international organizations that make similar loans) with significant concessionary terms.

The Government's gold reserves are included in the International reserves held in the Exchange Fund Account and are recorded and valued at 35 Special Drawing Rights per fine ounce.

LIABILITIES

Liabilities are recorded at the amounts ultimately payable and liabilities for the superannuation accounts, with the exception of indexing, and the Government Annuities Account, are valued on an actuarial basis.

viii. Translation of foreign currency transactions

Foreign currency transactions are translated and recorded in Canadian currency equivalents at the exchange rates prevailing at the transaction dates.

Assets and liabilities resulting from foreign currency transactions are, in turn, reported at year-end closing rates of exchange; net gains are credited to revenue, while net losses are charged to expenditure.

ix. Statement of Use of Appropriations

Parliament provides authority to make payments out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund in annual appropriation acts and other statutes (the latter referred to as statutory appropriations). Spending authority granted in appropriation acts is for stated purposes and maximum amounts. Unless provided for in vote wording, unused spending authority granted in appropriation acts lapses at the end of the year for which it was granted. Spending authority provided by statutory appropriations is for specified purposes and for such amounts and such time as the acts prescribe. Spending authority provided by statutory appropriations generally does not lapse at the end of the year in which it was granted.

The Statement of Use of Appropriations summarizes the authorities available for both budgetary spending on operations and non-budgetary loans, investments and advances and the disposition of such authorities by ministry. The statement is prepared in accordance with the significant accounting policies described in this note with the following exceptions:

- appropriations available for use and used in the year include internal transactions between and within ministries; and between ministries and consolidated specified purpose accounts;
- the provision for valuation of assets and liabilities is not allocated to ministries; and
- budgetary appropriations for use and used in the year do not include amounts charged to consolidated specified purpose accounts.

2. Authorities for Transactions

Taxes can be raised and moneys can be borrowed only with the authority of Parliament. All receipts of money by departments and agencies must be deposited into the Consolidated Revenue Fund (CRF). All disbursements from the CRF for spending on operations, for loans, investments and advances, and for the redemption of matured debt must be authorized by Parliament.

i. Authority for spending on operations

Most Government spending is under authorities that do not impose an annual limit on the amount that may be spent. Spending is authorized by reference to statutory formulae or criteria and the authorities usually continue from year to year until changed or rescinded by an act of Parliament. Other spending is under authorities that establish a dollar limit on the amount that may be spent. Usually, the balances of such authorities unspent at the end of a year lapse. Some authorities continue from year to year and some authorize the spending, within a program, of defined categories of revenue generated by the program.

ii. Authority for loans, investments and advances

These authorities limit the amount of loans, investments or advances that may be made. Unused authority may lapse at the end of a year or may continue from year to year. Non-lapsing authorities often limit only the total of loans that may be outstanding at any one time; thus principal repaid may be reloaned.

iii. Borrowing authority

The Government can borrow only as authorized by acts of Parliament. Borrowing authority acts provide authority for the net amount of new security issues less redemptions during a fiscal year. The authorities lapse at the end of the year except for amounts specifically carried forward to the next fiscal year. Parliament has also provided a continuing authority to the Government under Section 39 of the Financial Administration Act to borrow, for periods not exceeding six months, such amounts as are deemed necessary to meet lawfully authorized disbursements.

Crown corporations (corporations wholly owned by the Crown) that are agents of Her Majesty also may borrow only as authorized by acts of Parliament. Such acts usually place a ceiling on the amount of borrowings that can be outstanding at any one time. Non-agent Crown corporations can borrow without specific parliamentary authority. Non-agent borrowings are sometimes guaranteed by the Government with the authority of Parliament.

3. Child Tax Credit

Entitlements to the child tax credit are claimed on personal income tax returns. Claims are settled either by reducing the tax liability for the year or, if no liability exists, by issuing a "refund" cheque. In either case, personal income tax revenues are reduced, even where no tax had been paid. Had these tax reductions and direct payments been reported as expenditures, gross total expenditure and revenue would have increased respectively by $1,360 million ($1,499 million in 1986).

4. Presentation of Expenditure by Standard Object

Expenditure with outside parties per the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit is reported by standard object in the following table:

5. Statement of Use of Appropriations

Total net expenditure by envelope of $116,388 million ($111,234 million in 1986) reported on the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit differs from the total use of budgetary appropriations of $106,698 million ($103,164 million in 1986) reported on the Statement of Use of Appropriations. The difference represents transactions of certain specified purpose accounts, the provision for valuation which is not applied to each appropriation and budgetary transactions internal to the Government as follows:

6. Accumulated Deficit

In accordance with its stated accounting policies, revenues and expenditures of certain specified purpose accounts are included in the revenue and expenditure of the Government. However, enabling legislation requires that such revenues be earmarked and that related payments be charged against such revenue. Any deficiency of payments over revenue must, in accordance with enabling legislation, be met through future revenue of these specified purpose accounts. The table below presents the balances of these accounts as at March 31, 1987 included in the accumulated deficit as follows:

	(in millions of dollars)
	1987	1986
Accumulated deficit excluding consolidated specified purpose accounts	263,189	232,698

7. Crown Corporations

In accordance with the accounting policy stated in Note 1(i), the assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses reported in the separate financial statements of Crown corporations are not included in the Government's financial statements. Only the financial transactions between the Government and Crown corporations are included.

The following tables separately summarize the assets, liabilities, revenues and expenditures of the Government and the assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses of all Crown corporations. All identified transactions and balances between the Crown corporations and the Government have been reported in the tables.

The tables present the financial transactions and results of operations of the Government and the Crown corporations in accordance with their respective accounting policies. Most Crown corporations follow the generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) used by private sector companies, as outlined in the Handbook of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants. The most significant difference between GAAP and the Government's basis of accounting described in Note 1 is that under GAAP, non-financial assets such as buildings, machinery, equipment and inventories are reflected as assets and written off over their respective expected lives or as they are used; the Government treats the acquisition of non-financial assets as expenditures in the year of acquisition.

A further significant difference is that the Government excludes from its assets accounts receivable arising from revenue transactions. The value of non-financial assets and revenue receivables reported by Crown corporations as at March 31, 1987 was $25,384 million and $6,975 million respectively ($25,567 million and $7,591 million in 1986).

For those Crown corporations whose year end is March 31, the data are based on audited financial statements. For those corporations having other year ends, the data are based on unaudited interim financial statements which have been prepared on a basis consistent with their most recent audited financial statements.

⁽¹⁾ Included in corporate revenues is financial assistance from the federal Government in respect of current operations of $4,635 million ($4,644 million in 1986).

8. *International Development Assistance—Loans and Subscriptions*i. Loans to developing countries

Included in loans to National governments of $4,405 million ($4,529 million in 1986) are loans to developing countries of $3,199 million ($3,258 million in 1986). These loans arise from agreements signed with developing countries before April 1, 1986, are part of Canada's international development assistance program and are either interest-free or bear interest at rates that were more favourable than those prevailing in Canada at the time the assistance was provided. The balances outstanding at March 31, grouped by term, are:

These loans, by their terms, confer financial benefits on the recipients and have been fully provided for in the Allowance for valuation. Details can be found in Section 8 of this volume.

ii. Subscriptions and loans to international organizations

Included in Loans, investments and advances—International organizations of $4,542 million ($4,294 million in 1986) are subscriptions to the capital of the International Development Association and loans to other international financial institutions of $3,854 million ($3,592 million in 1986) which are also part of Canada's development assistance program. These institutions make loans to developing countries on terms similar to those described in sub-section i. Subscriptions to international organizations do not provide a return on investment but are repayable on termination of the organization or on withdrawal therefrom. Details can be found in Section 8 of this volume.

Loans, investments and advances—International organizations are presented net after deduction of notes payable of $1,837 million ($1,543 million in 1986), including $1,746 million ($1,460 million in 1986) of notes payable to the aforementioned Association and institutions. The notes are non-interest bearing, are non-negotiable, but are payable on demand, although they are normally encashed over periods of up to seven years, according to the financial requirements of the institutions.

Included in the Allowance for valuation is an amount of $2,108 million ($2,132 million in 1986) equal to the net position of the Government vis-à-vis these institutions.

9. Gold

Included in International reserves held in the Exchange Fund Account of $8,212 million ($3,459 million in 1986) are Canada's gold holdings of 19,423 million fine ounces with a recorded value of $1,141 million (20,106 million fine ounces with a recorded value of $1,118 million in 1986).

Gold is valued at the Canadian dollar equivalent of 35 Special Drawing Rights (SDRs) per fine ounce, which approximates its cost in foreign currency terms. At March 31, 1987, the Canadian dollar equivalent of 35 SDRs was $58.74 per fine ounce ($55.61 per fine ounce in 1986). The SDR is a unit of account used by the International Monetary Fund and is valued in terms of a "basket" of five major currencies.

Alternative bases of valuation could be used to value gold. On a market value basis ($549.62 per fine ounce in 1987, $480.16 in 1986), the recorded value would have been $10,675 million ($9,654 million in 1986). On the basis of estimated average cost in Canadian dollars at historical rates of exchange ($36.91 per fine ounce in both 1987 and 1986), the recorded value would have been $717 million ($742 million in 1986). Further details can be found in the financial statements of the Exchange Fund Account, included in Section 11 of this volume.

10. Canada Pension Plan

Under existing legislation, benefits and costs incurred in the administration of the Canada Pension Plan are financed from contributions from employees, employers and self-employed persons, and from interest from the investment of contributions not immediately needed for benefits and costs. Although the Canada Pension Plan was established under federal legislation, the Plan is under the joint control of the Government and the provinces. Any province or group of provinces having $\frac{1}{3}$ of the population of Canada can veto any amendment to the Canada Pension Plan that affects the level of contributions or benefits. The Government's authority to pay benefits under the Plan is limited to the balance in the Canada Pension Plan Account which was \$34,233 million at March 31, 1987. Therefore, in accordance with the accounting policies of the Government, the revenues and expenditures of the Plan have not been reported with those of the Government.

In 1987, revenues of the Canada Pension Plan Account were $8.4 billion ($7.6 billion in 1986) and expenditures were $5.9 billion ($5 billion in 1986). The balance of the Canada Pension Plan Account is $34.2 billion at March 31, 1987 ($31.7 billion at March 31, 1986). Funds in excess of estimated current operating requirements ($32.3 billion at March 31, 1987; $29.9 billion at March 31, 1986) are available for investments in securities of the provinces, territories and of the Government, on the basis of contributions from the jurisdiction to total contributions to the Account.

Contributions to the Canada Pension Plan Account are not established on a basis that provides for the full actuarial costs of benefits. If the Plan were financed on an actuarial basis, the Chief Actuary of the Department of Insurance estimates that the contribution rate would have to be increased from 3.6% to 7.9% and that an additional amount of $231 billion would have been required at December 31, 1985, the date of the most recent actuarial valuation, to pay future benefits of all contributors and pensioners in the Plan at that time. The actuarial assumptions used in making this estimate include an interest rate of 6.5%, an inflation rate of 3.5% and an annual increase in average earnings of 5%.

During the year, agreement was struck on new financing arrangements for the Canada Pension Plan, and federal legislation was passed in June, 1986. A long term funding objective of approximately two years of benefits has been set. This objective will be achieved by establishing a 25 year schedule of contribution rates. The first 5 years require an annual .2 percentage points shared increase to the current combined employer-employee contribution rate of 3.6% of contributory earnings. Contribution rates for the 20 subsequent years involve shared increases of .15 percentage points and are subject to quinquennial federal-provincial reviews. Contribution increases began in January, 1987. The financial statements of the Account are reproduced in Section 9 of this volume.

11. Superannuation Accounts

The Government sponsors defined benefit pension plans for substantially all its full-time employees, principally members of the Public Service, the Canadian Forces and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (RCMP). Basic pensions, which are mostly based on the best 6 years average earnings and are accrued at the rate of 2 percent of average salary per year of service, are provided under the authority of the Public Service Superannuation Act, the Canadian Forces Superannuation Act and the RCMP Superannuation Act, respectively. Benefits are limited, the maximum being seventy percent of final average earnings. Basic pensions are annually (on January 1) indexed to the cost of living under authority of the Supplementary Retirement Benefits Act.

The Public Service Superannuation Act also covers the employees of certain Crown corporations, agencies and other institutions. The pension obligations of these entities is limited to matching their employees' contributions; any actuarial deficiency is borne by the Government.

The employee contribution for these basic benefits is six and one half percent of pay, less contributions to the Canada or Quebec Pension Plan. In addition, employees contribute 1% of pay towards indexing. For basic benefits, the employer matches the prior year's employee contributions for members of the Public Service, and contributes 1.8 and 2 times current year's contributions for members of the Canadian Forces and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police respectively. Indexation contributions are matched.

Contributions are credited to non-budgetary accounts. The basic superannuation accounts earn interest at rates that are based on the Government of Canada long-term bond rates. The interest rate earned by the basic accounts was about 11% in both 1987 and 1986. The indexation account is credited with interest based on five year Government of Canada bond rates. The rate in 1987 was 8.8% (10.3% in 1986).

All benefit payments are charged to non-budgetary accounts, except for certain indexing benefits in the cases where retirees have exhausted their credits in the Supplementary Retirement Benefits Account. In such cases, indexing benefits are charged directly to expenditure.

The superannuation accounts shown on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities include liabilities for basic pensions and indexing. Liabilities for basic pensions are determined on an actuarial basis, those for indexing are not. The Government has estimated that if the liabilities for all these superannuation accounts were determined on an actuarial basis, the reported liabilities and accumulated deficit would increase by $3.1 billion at March 31, 1987 ($4.4 billion at March 31, 1986).

This estimate incorporates, initially, the effects of currently high rates of interest credited to the Accounts and other current economic conditions. These economic assumptions are blended gradually into long-term actuarial assumptions which, from 1999, are assumed to be an interest rate on new funds of 6%, general wage increases of 5%, and an inflation rate of 3.5%.

The following table discloses pension and related interest costs charged to expenditure in 1986-87.

(in millions of dollars)
	Public Service	Canadian Forces	Royal Canadian Mounted Police	1987 Total	1986 Total
Employer contributions	476	258	79	813	785

	3,654	2,207	353	6,214	5,734

⁽¹⁾ Interest on pension accounts is stated, where applicable, net of amortization of actuarial deficiencies. Interest charged to the public debt represents the total of the two amounts.

In addition to the plans described above, pension obligations exist with respect to several other pension plans, the most significant of which cover all members of Parliament and federally appointed judges. The Government has estimated, using the same economic assumptions described above, that if the liabilities for these plans were determined on an actuarial basis, the reported liabilities and accumulated deficit would increase by approximately $360 million at March 31, 1987 ($330 million at March 31, 1986).

Details of the Accounts are reproduced in Section 9 of this volume.

12. Borrowings of Agent Crown Corporations

Included in borrowings of agent Crown corporations of $15.8 billion ($14.6 billion in 1986) are the borrowings of the Canadian Wheat Board (CWB) of $4 billion ($4.1 billion in 1986).

The borrowings of the CWB have been incurred to finance credit grain sales to various countries. Terms of the credit grain sales call for payment in full within 36 months or less from time of shipment. However, certain countries are experiencing difficulties in servicing their international financial obligations, of which approximately $3.3 billion ($3 billion in 1986) including accrued interest, are owing to CWB. Of this amount, approximately $2.6 billion was in arrears as at March 31, 1987 ($2.2 billion as at March 31, 1986).

It should be noted that, for such loans to sovereign borrowers, payment delays are not necessarily indicative of a future loss requiring an allowance. Sovereign entities and their international financial obligations do not have commercial mortality and the international system provides several mechanisms and institutions through which countries facing repayment difficulties can effect remedial measures in agreement with their creditors. The Government and CWB are presently in the process of negotiating the rescheduling of those sovereign obligations that are in arrears, together with accrued interest thereon. The Government is of the opinion that these negotiations will result in no significant loss on CWB's related assets.

Therefore, the Government, as guarantor of CWB's borrowings to finance credit grain sales, has made no valuation allowance in the accounts of Canada.

Foreign currency amounts are translated to the Canadian dollar equivalent at year end. At year end, foreign currency borrowings included the following:

⁽¹⁾ The 1987 Canadian $ equivalent is comprised of the conversion of Yen debt and U.S. dollar swap risks.

Substantially all the debt of the Government is issued at fixed rates. The Government has entered into interest rate swap agreements expiring in 1989 and 1995 on U.S. $1.9 billion in notional principal. The Government has assumed a variable interest rate determined by the London Inter-bank Offered Rate (LIBOR) market against a weighted average 10.58% fixed interest rate position assumed by third parties. Interest on all swap transactions is recorded in a consistent manner in the financial statements.

The Government has also entered into currency swap agreements which have the effect of converting future exchange fluctuation risks of Yen debt totalling 100,000 million Yen to U.S. dollar risks totalling $530 million.

The proceeds of Canada's borrowings in foreign currency have been advanced to the Exchange Fund Account.

14. Borrowing Authorities

The following table shows the borrowing authorities available and the use of such authorities for the years ended March 31, 1987 and 1986, and reconciles the use of such authorities to the change in unmatured debt as reported in Table 12.1 in Section 12 of this volume.

⁽¹⁾ Authorizes the Government to borrow, for a fixed period not exceeding six months, amounts necessary to ensure that the Consolidated Revenue Fund will be sufficient to meet lawfully authorized disbursements.

15. Accounts Receivable

Non-tax accounts receivable represent billed but uncollected and/or unbilled and accrued financial claims arising from amounts owed to a Government body for use of its assets or for services rendered as of the accounting date. Non-tax accounts receivable of the Government as at March 31, 1987, amounted to approximately $1.9 billion (approximately $1.5 billion in 1986) net of an allowance for doubtful accounts.

16. Commitments under Capital Lease Arrangements

Major capital assets of the Government are either purchased outright or leased. Where a lease transfers substantially all of the benefits and risks incidental to ownership of the property to the lessee, it is considered a capital lease. The Government has entered into capital leases with outside parties for buildings and equipment.

In accordance with the accounting policies of the Government, lease payments under capital leases are charged to budgetary expenditure in the year of payment. Such payments are authorized annually by Parliament. The Government's total remaining commitments under capital lease arrangements, in excess of $100 thousand each, entered into as at March 31, 1987, amounted to $1,524 million ($1,613 million in 1986). Included in this amount is $1,074 million ($1,147 million in 1986) in imputed interest and $0 million ($4 million in 1986) in executory costs. The resulting net commitments of $450 million ($462 million in 1986) represent the value of the capital assets leased and the principal amount of the long-term lease liability. In accordance with the significant accounting policies of the Government, neither the asset nor the lease commitment is reflected on the Government's Statement of Assets and Liabilities.

17. Insurance Programs

Three Crown corporations operate insurance programs as agents of Her Majesty. The insurance programs are intended to operate on a self-sustaining basis but in the event that such corporations do not have sufficient funds to meet their obligations, the Government provides the required financing through appropriations, either budgetary or non-budgetary. The Government is of the opinion that no allowance need be established in the accounts of Canada for these insurance programs.

The Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation (CDIC) provides insurance on deposits with member banks and trust and loan companies for up to $60,000 per depositor per institution. Total insured deposits at March 31, 1987 were $200,277 million ($183,719 million at March 31, 1986). The CDIC experienced a loss for the year ended March 31, 1987 of $10 million (in 1986, the loss was $432 million). The deficiency of the CDIC's Deposit Insurance Fund at March 31, 1987 was $1,269 million ($1,259 million at March 31, 1986). The deficiency has been funded in part by loans from the Government of $1,203 million at March 31, 1987 ($935 million at March 31, 1986). Amendments to the CDIC Act, which received Royal Assent on June 30, 1987, allow for premium levels to be set by the Governor in Council, at amounts not to exceed 1/6 of 1% of insured deposits. Other amendments allow for premium surcharges in risk situations and raise the loan limits from the Consolidated Revenue Fund from $1.5 billion to $3 billion. The Government is of the opinion that, based on current information, this restructuring will allow CDIC, over time, to eliminate its deficiency without budgetary support from the Government.

The Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation administers the Mortgage Insurance Fund (MIF). The MIF provides insurance for mortgage lending on Canadian housing by private institutions. Insurance in force at March 31, 1987 was $40,299 million ($38,413 million at March 31, 1986). The MIF had income for the year ended March 31, 1987 of $54 million (in 1986, the MIF had income of $340 million which includes $248 million in Government assistance). The actuarial deficiency of the MIF at March 31, 1987 was $418 million ($472 million at March 31, 1986). Budgetary financial assistance is provided by the Government only to the extent that internally generated funds are insufficient to support cash outflows. In this regard, the MIF's current excess of revenues over disbursements has resulted in investments in securities of $145 million at March 31, 1987 (nil in 1986).

The Export Development Corporation provides export and foreign investment insurance for the purpose of facilitating and developing export trade. Insurance in force at March 31, 1987 was $2,644 million ($2,519 million in 1986). The Corporation's premium revenues have been adequate to provide for the full costs of claims experienced to date and to establish an allowance for possible future claims based on past claims experience.

This information has not been audited because the three corporations have financial years other than March 31, 1987. Financial statements of these corporations and their insurance funds on a calendar year basis are reproduced in Volume III of the Public Accounts. Details of the transactions for these three insurance programs for the year ended March 31, 1987 can be found in Section 13 of this volume.

18. Contingent Liabilities of the Government of Canada

A contingent liability is a potential liability which may become an actual liability when one or more future events occur or fail to occur. The contingent liabilities of the Government consist of explicit guarantees and potential losses arising from pending and threatened litigation relating to claims and assessments in respect of breach of contract, damages to persons and property, and like items.

The Government has six comprehensive native land claims under negotiation which is the maximum number that may be negotiated at any one time. An additional 19 native claims have been validated and are awaiting negotiation. A total of 93 specific native claims were also at various stages of the negotiation process as at March 31, 1987. A further 143 claims were under review to determine their acceptability for negotiation pursuant to the provisions of the policy on specific claims. The amount of land, financial and other benefits required to settle both comprehensive and specific native claims cannot be determined and therefore no amount for such claims is included in contingent liabilities. Failure to reach an acceptable agreement could lead to future litigation cases which would then be reported as contingent liabilities.

The contingent liabilities of the Government as at March 31, 1987 amounted to $8,222 million and are summarized in the following table:

	(in millions of dollars)
	1987 ⁽¹⁾	1986
i) Explicit guarantees by the Government
Borrowings by other than Crown corporations	3,801	3,347
Insurance programs of the Government	1,440	1,456
Other explicit guarantees	341	223
ii) Pending and threatened litigation ⁽²⁾	2,640	3,850
	8,222	8,876

⁽²⁾ Includes $1.7 billion ($2.9 billion in 1986) related to native statutory and treaty obligations. This amount represents plaintiffs' claims in 46 (50 in 1986) litigation cases. There are another 96 (75 in 1986) similar cases, for which amounts are not stated in the claims, and for which it is not possible to determine the amounts that may be ultimately payable.

OPINION OF THE AUDITOR GENERAL ON THE
FINANCIAL STATEMENTS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF CANADA

I have examined the statement of assets and liabilities of the Government of Canada as at March 31, 1987 and the statements of revenue and expenditure and accumulated deficit, transactions, and use of appropriations for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary to enable me to report as required by Section 6 of the Auditor General Act.

In my opinion, these financial statements present information in accordance with the stated accounting policies of the Government of Canada as set out in Note 1 to the financial statements applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year. Further, in my opinion, the statement of use of appropriations presents fairly a summary of appropriations available and used for the year ended March 31, 1987 in accordance with the accounting policies stated in Note 1(ix). However, in my opinion, because of the stated accounting policies that I consider inappropriate as outlined in Reservations 1, 2 and 3, the statements of assets and liabilities, revenue and expenditure and accumulated deficit, and transactions do not present fairly the financial position of the Government as at March 31, 1987 and the results of its operations and its financial requirements for the year then ended.

Reservation 1: Failure to Provide for Crown Corporation Borrowings

In accordance with the accounting policy stated in Note 1(vii), amounts receivable from sovereign states are not reduced in value unless a state has formally repudiated its debts. The Government has used this accounting policy in determining whether assets of agent Crown corporations have sufficient value to repay corporate borrowings. If borrowings exceed the corporations' ability to repay, a liability is recorded by the Government under the accounting policy in Note 1(i). The purpose of this policy is to recognize borrowings that the Government will likely have to repay.

As described in Note 12, the Canadian Wheat Board, an agent Crown corporation, has borrowed $4 billion mainly to finance accounts receivable from sales of grain. The receivables include $1.1 billion of interest that has accrued on amounts due from countries that are experiencing difficulties in servicing their debts. In my judgement, sound accounting practice does not recognize any value for accrued interest in circumstances where receipt is uncertain. I believe that the value of the Board's assets has been impaired by at least the $1.1 billion of accrued interest, putting the Government at risk for at least this amount of Board borrowings. However, application of the accounting policy stated in Note 1(vii) does not permit this risk to be recognized because the countries that owe money to the Board have not formally repudiated their debts.

I believe that an appropriate provision for Canadian Wheat Board borrowings should be recorded by the Government. If this were done, reported liabilities and accumulated deficit would be increased by at least $1.1 billion ($900 million in 1986) and the deficit for the year would be increased by at least $200 million ($200 million in 1986).

Reservation 2: Failure to Consolidate Crown Corporations

As described in Note 1 (i), the assets, liabilities, revenues and expenditures reported in the separate financial statements of Crown corporations are excluded from the accompanying statements of assets and liabilities, revenue and expenditure and accumulated deficit, and transactions of the Government of Canada. As a result, I believe that the Government's financial statements do not provide a comprehensive and complete summary of the full nature and extent of the financial affairs and resources for which the Government is responsible. The Government and the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants are conducting studies to determine the extent to which and how the separate financial statements of Crown corporations should be consolidated with those of the Government, and the alternative presentation that would be appropriate for any not consolidated.

Reservation 3: Unrecorded Liabilities

In accordance with the accounting policy stated in Note 1(v), financial obligations in respect of indexing superannuate pensions and annuities are not fully recorded in the accompanying statements of assets and liabilities, revenue and expenditure and accumulated deficit, and transactions of the Government of Canada. As disclosed in Note 11, if the full amount of these obligations had been recorded, reported liabilities and accumulated deficit would be increased by approximately $3.5 billion ($4.7 billion in 1986), and the deficit for the year would be decreased by $1.2 billion.

Additional information and comments on the financial statements and this opinion are included in my observations in Section 3 of this volume.

OBSERVATIONS BY THE AUDITOR GENERAL ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS OF THE GOVERNMENT OF CANADA

INTRODUCTION

The Financial Statements of the Government of Canada for the year ended 31 March 1987 and my audit Opinion on them are in Section 2 of this volume. These financial statements convey a highly summarized overview of the Government's various activities. It includes what the Government owns and owes at a given time (financial position), what its revenues and expenditures for the year have been (results of operations) and the extent to which cash going out exceeded cash coming in (financial requirements).

My audit Opinion informs readers whether the financial statements are prepared in accordance with the Government's accounting policies—applied consistently from year to year—and whether users of the statements can rely on them to inform and not mislead. If I conclude that the financial statements reliably inform, my Opinion states that information is “presented fairly”; if they do not, the phrase “do not present fairly” is used, and supporting “Reservations” are added to explain why.

The Observations in this section contain additional explanations and comments on my audit Opinion, background information on each of the three Reservations included in it, and other significant issues, initiatives and concerns related to reporting summary financial information.

Mandate for the audit

The mandate for my audit of the Government's financial statements is contained in section 6 of the Auditor General Act. Section 6 states that “the Auditor General shall examine the several financial statements required by section 55 of the Financial Administration Act to be included in the Public Accounts, and any other statement that the President of the Treasury Board or the Minister of Finance may present for audit and shall express his opinion as to whether they present fairly information in accordance with stated accounting policies of the federal government and on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year together with any reservations he may have”.

An overview of my audit Opinion

My audit Opinion on the Government's financial statements consists of two main paragraphs followed by three Reservations. The first paragraph, commonly referred to as the “scope” paragraph, identifies the financial statements that I have examined and reported on, and the nature and extent of the audit work that I have performed.

The financial statements covered by my Opinion and the information these statements convey are summarized below:

Financial Statement	Information Conveyed
Statement of Transactions	Financial requirements
Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit	Results of operations
Statement of Assets and Liabilities	Financial position
Statement of Use of Appropriations	Summary of appropriations available and used

My audit Opinion relates only to these summary financial statements and related notes contained in Section 2 of this volume. It does not extend to the more detailed information presented in other Sections of Volume I or to Volumes II and III.

I have conducted my audit work on the Government's financial statements in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards prescribed by the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants.

The second paragraph of my audit Opinion contains my conclusion on whether the financial statements are prepared in accordance with the Government's accounting policies consistently applied (the first sentence), and whether the financial statements may be relied on to inform and not mislead (the second and third sentences). The Government uses one set of accounting policies in preparing its Statement of Use of Appropriations (see Note 1 (ix) to the financial statements) and another set of policies in preparing the remaining summary statements (see the other parts of Note 1).

I have concluded and reported that the financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the Government's accounting policies consistently applied (the first sentence). I have also concluded that compliance with these policies results in a summary of appropriations available and used that reliably informs, and have therefore reported that the Statement of Use of Appropriations presents information fairly (the second sentence). But I have concluded that compliance with these policies results in a display of the Government's overall financial position, results of operations and financial requirements that does not reliably inform. So I have reported that the remaining financial statements do not present information fairly for the reasons set out in the three Reservations (the third sentence).

Materiality and audit assurance

There are two main factors that determine the amount of auditing required to provide an opinion on the Government's financial statements. First is the extent to which I am willing to accept the financial statements being in error before concluding that they do not reliably inform. This tolerable error is called materiality. Second is the degree of assurance I want to have that the financial statements are not in error by more than materiality.

In setting materiality, I cannot provide assurance that total errors are less than the amount management has tolerated in preparing the financial statements. In other words, I cannot be any more precise than the statements.

In setting the level of assurance, I cannot be 100 per cent certain that, after completing the audit, there are no material errors in the financial statements. The size and complexity of the Government, and considerations of audit cost, make it impractical for me to examine all or even most of the individual transactions entered into during the year. What I can do is verify samples of transactions and account balances, determine if significant financial controls within the Government are working and may be relied on to produce complete and accurate data, and conduct other procedures such as confirming year-end balances with third parties and conducting analytical reviews to identify anomalies in the reported data.

The more stringent the audit, the more it costs. For example, more work is required to provide assurance that the Government's financial statements do not contain aggregate errors of, say $200 million than to provide assurance at the $300 million level. To obtain 99 per cent assurance that errors do not exceed a given materiality is more costly than obtaining assurance at the 95 per cent level.

In auditing the Government's financial statements, I have set materiality and assurance at levels that I consider appropriate for the sensitive task of auditing the public purse. In doing so, I seek reasonable assurance that the financial statements do not contain aggregate errors that would mislead the reader.

What it comes down to is exercising professional judgement concerning how much auditing is required to assure readers that they can rely on reported results and not be misled.

Auditing for compliance with parliamentary authorities

Each year, I examine and verify compliance with parliamentary authorities to spend, borrow and raise revenues to the same level of materiality and assurance established for my audit of the Government's overall financial position, results of operations and financial requirements. This allows me to conclude whether or not the Statement of Use of Appropriations presents fairly a summary of appropriations available and used for the year. This year, in order to be more informative, I have expanded the wording of my audit Opinion to provide this assurance explicitly.

However, this work is not extensive enough for me to conclude whether each authority has been complied with each year. The size and complexity of individual authorities vary greatly. It would not be practical for me to audit each of them each year to much lower levels of materiality. I have therefore decided to perform detailed verifications of individual authorities on a cyclical rather than on an annual basis. The results of this work are included in my annual Report to Parliament.

RESERVATION 1: FAILURE TO PROVIDE FOR CROWN CORPORATION BORROWINGS

In accordance with the accounting policy stated in Note 1(vii), amounts receivable from sovereign states are not reduced in value unless a state has formally repudiated its debts. The Government has used this accounting policy in determining whether assets of agent Crown corporations have sufficient value to repay corporate borrowings. If borrowings exceed the corporations' ability to repay, a liability is recorded by the Government under the accounting policy in Note 1(i). The purpose of this policy is to recognize borrowings that the Government will likely have to repay.

As described in Note 12, the Canadian Wheat Board (CWB), an agent Crown corporation, has borrowed $4 billion mainly to finance accounts receivable from sales of grain. The receivables include $1.1 billion of interest that has accrued on amounts due from countries that are experiencing difficulties in servicing their debts. In my judgement, sound accounting practice does not recognize any value for accrued interest in circumstances where receipt is uncertain. I believe that the value of CWB's assets has been impaired by at least the $1.1 billion of accrued interest, putting the Government at risk for at least this amount of Board borrowings. However, application of the accounting policy stated in Note 1(vii) does not permit this risk to be recognized because the countries that owe money to the Board have not formally repudiated their debts.

I believe that an appropriate provision for CWB borrowings should be recorded by the Government. If this were done, reported liabilities and accumulated deficit would be increased by at least $1.1 billion ($900 million in 1986), and the deficit for the year would be increased by at least $200 million ($200 million in 1986).

CWB buys grain from Canadian farmers and sells it on the world market. Under the Canadian Wheat Board Act, any profit on operations is distributed to the farmers, with any loss being absorbed by the Government. The terms of sales generally specify cash on delivery. However, sales on credit are also made, but only with the concurrence of and within guidelines established by the Government. Accounts receivable from credit sales are financed by bank borrowing that is guaranteed by the Government. Because CWB has no other significant assets, repayment of the bank borrowing depends entirely on repayment of the accounts receivable.

At March 31, 1987, CWB had approximately $3.3 billion of accounts receivable owing from countries experiencing difficulties in servicing their debts. Included in this figure is approximately $1.1 billion of interest that CWB has charged these countries because of late or deficient repayment of amounts due. About one-half of this accrued interest has been converted to new loans as part of debt reschedulings to ease the financial burden on countries experiencing repayment difficulties. These difficulties continue, and further debt reschedulings are expected.

The receivables from countries experiencing difficulties have not been written down to a lower value in CWB's financial statements, and interest on these receivables is still being accrued in the accounts. The reason given in the financial statements is that the Board is not at risk should any of its receivables prove uncollectible because the borrowings used to finance them are guaranteed by the Government. But what about the risk to the Government as guarantor? Surely this depends on the value of CWB's assets that are available to service the borrowings that the Government has guaranteed.

If CWB's borrowings were not guaranteed by the Government, I believe that sound accounting practice would require the Board to cease accruing interest on its receivables in arrears and to write them down to a lower value. This would be consistent with the spirit of the Superintendent of Financial Institutions' rules for valuing loans by commercial banks to sovereign nations that are experiencing difficulties in servicing their debts.

Recent amendments to the Superintendent's rules require that, by October 31, 1987, a valuation allowance be established of from 30 per cent to 40 per cent of loans receivable from countries experiencing difficulties in servicing their debts. Accrual of interest would also cease where countries are significantly in arrears. If these criteria were applied to CWB's receivables, they would be reduced in value by amounts ranging from $1.0 billion to $1.3 billion. It seems to me that because CWB's receivables arose from commercial-type transactions, applying commercial accounting conventions to their valuation may well be appropriate in the circumstances.

As explained in Note 12 to the financial statements, the Government believes that payment delays on amounts receivable from sovereign nations are not necessarily indicative of a future loss requiring an allowance (italics added). Although this may be so, the individual circumstances of each country must be looked at separately. There may be situations where payment delays do indicate future losses. Sovereign nations do not necessarily receive preferential treatment. For example, of the $1.1 billion in accrued interest owing to CWB, $1 billion is from countries that are reasonably up-to-date on loans they owe to commercial banks, at least in terms of interest. But these same countries have paid CWB only a small fraction of the interest they owe.

Moreover, rescheduling of amounts that are past due does not necessarily create assets with value, as the Estey report on the collapse of the Canadian Commercial Bank and the Northland Bank has pointed out. Why would a country formally repudiate its debts when a rescheduling agreement can be obtained that spreads out the repayment of its debts over an extended time period, with a grace period of several years and lower rates of interest than the country is currently paying?

I believe that the Government should recognize as a liability at least that portion of CWB's borrowings supported by accrued interest on amounts owing to the Board that are overdue and unpaid. This would be done under the accounting policy stated in Note 1(i) that requires the Government to provide an allowance for agent Crown corporation borrowings that the Government will likely have to repay.

In saying this, I am not in any way suggesting that CWB should write off its accounts receivable from debtor countries. Sound collection practices must prevail if public assets are to be protected. But the Government is clearly at risk for at least $1.1 billion of the CWB borrowings that it has guaranteed, and the summary financial statements in Section 2 should reflect this reality.

I would encourage the Government to revise its position on this matter and establish an appropriate allowance for borrowings of the Canadian Wheat Board at the earliest possible date.

RESERVATION 2: FAILURE TO CONSOLIDATE CROWN CORPORATIONS

The assets, liabilities, revenues and expenditures reported in the separate financial statements of Crown corporations are excluded from the financial statements of the Government of Canada as described in Note 1(i). As a result, I believe that the Government's financial statements do not provide a comprehensive and complete summary of the full nature and extent of the financial affairs and resources for which the Government is responsible. At March 31, 1987, the net investment in Crown corporations whose financial statements are not consolidated with those of the Government amounted to approximately $22 billion or 56 per cent of the Government's total financial assets.

The exclusion of corporate activities from the Government's statements can have a significant effect on reported financial position and results of operations. As an example, consider the Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation, whose financial affairs are summarized in Note 17. At March 31, 1987, the Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation had a deficit of $1,269 million, of which $10 million represented a loss during the year. If the separate financial statements of the corporation had been consolidated with those of the Government, the accumulated deficit would have increased by $1,269 million ($1,259 million in 1986), and the deficit for the year would have increased by $10 million ($432 million in 1986).

In previous years, the Government illustrated in a note to the financial statements (Note 5 in 1986) one method of broadening the reporting entity to include all Crown corporations. The method chosen was to include Crown corporations in the entity using the Government's modified cash basis of accounting. This resulted in physical assets and revenue accruals of Crown corporations being excluded from the display. The exclusion was considered uninformative by the Government. This year, another form of illustration is provided in Note 7. It shows the Government entity (as defined at present) in one column using the modified cash basis of accounting, and all Crown corporations combined together in a second column using the quite different basis of accounting that the corporations use for external reporting. Although this approach discloses the physical assets and revenue accruals of Crown corporations, it does not provide a comprehensive and complete picture of the Government—this would require that the columns be added together. That has not been done because the bases of accounting differ.

The Government is studying the extent to which and how the separate financial statements of Crown corporations should be consolidated with those of the Government, and the alternative presentation that would be appropriate for any not consolidated. The Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants' Public Sector Accounting and Auditing Committee (PSAAC) is also studying this issue. Government officials have advised me that until this research is complete, the accounting policy stated in Note 1(i) will not be changed. As an interim measure, the Government has summarized corporate activities in Note 7.

I am hopeful that PSAAC will publish a Statement on the reporting entity that, if implemented by the Government, will allow me to delete this Reservation from my Opinion. Until authoritative guidance is provided by PSAAC, I am unable to determine the effect on the Government's financial statements of the failure to consolidate Crown corporations.

A related concern—Expenditures offset against revenues

In the past two years, I have called attention to the Government's practice of reporting payments under the Child Tax Credit program as a reduction in personal income tax revenue rather than as a program expenditure. This practice continues. In Note 3, the Government has disclosed what the effect on reported revenue and expenditure would be if payments under the program were charged to expenditure of the Social Affairs envelope, as I believe they should be. I have not included this matter in my Reservations because it has no effect on the reported deficit for the year.

RESERVATION 3: UNRECORDED LIABILITIES

Indexing of superannuate pensions and annuities

The Government has defined liabilities as financial obligations to outside organizations and individuals as a result of events and transactions recorded as of the closing date. However, in accordance with the accounting policy stated in Note 1(v), and as described in Note 11, financial obligations related to the indexing provisions of superannuate pension and annuity plans (including the Public Service, the Canadian Forces, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Members of Parliament and Judges) have not been fully recorded. If full actuarial liabilities for all these obligations had been provided for in the accounts, reported liabilities and accumulated deficit would be increased by approximately $3.5 billion ($4.7 billion in 1986), and the deficit for the year would be decreased by $1.2 billion.

Note 11 is much more informative than the corresponding note (Note 9) in 1986. But until the Government appropriately adjusts the financial statements to reflect an additional liability for indexing, the burden is on the reader to do so. I consider this both undesirable and unfair. A reader unfamiliar with financial statements may get quite a different picture than a reader with more experience in this area.

Government officials have advised me that they will record an appropriate liability for indexing when revised superannuate pension legislation that is now before the House of Commons becomes law. PSAAC is also studying how these pensions should be accounted for and disclosed by senior levels of government in Canada. When additional guidance is available from PSAAC and an appropriate liability is recorded by the Government, I should be able to delete this Reservation from my Opinion.

Deficit of Mortgage Insurance Fund

In previous years, I have commented in Reservation 3 on the failure to provide an allowance for the deficit of the Mortgage Insurance Fund. Although the problem persists, I have deleted the comment from Reservation 3 this year because the absence of an allowance no longer has a material effect on the financial statements taken as a whole.

REPORTING OF SUMMARY FINANCIAL INFORMATION

The Government of Canada is a world leader in providing summary financial information in audited form. As we learned in the Federal Government Reporting Study (FGRS), Members of Parliament and many other users need overall financial information about the Government that is both credible and understandable.

The Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants' Public Sector Accounting and Auditing Committee (PSAAC) is developing generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) appropriate for Canadian governments. Public sector GAAP should provide objective and credible standards of good accounting and reporting practice that the Government can use in preparing its financial statements and against which I can audit.

FGRS introduced the concept of presenting overall financial data in a comprehensive but succinct Annual Financial Report similar to corporate reports produced in the private sector. All users that we consulted during FGRS, particularly Members of Parliament, expressed a need for this type of document. It would provide them with "the big picture" in understandable language, and also a key into the considerable other detail that the Government now provides.

Preparing financial data in accordance with PSAAC recommendations and presenting it along the lines illustrated in FGRS are important initiatives for the Government to pursue. Continued support and encouragement from Members of Parliament will help create the climate within which this work can be done.

In last year's Observations, I reported that the opportunity was never better for making significant improvements in financial reporting in the Canadian public sector:

- The accounting profession was making progress.
- The Government of Canada was making progress.
- FGRS results were made available to the accounting profession and the Government.

The following sections of this Observation provide an update on each of these initiatives.

Progress during the year by the accounting profession

In November 1986, PSAAC issued Accounting Statement Number 3 entitled "General Standards of Financial Statement Presentation for Governments". It contains 35 recommendations, 25 of which have been implemented by the Government. Appendix 1 to these Observations provides a status report on the extent to which the Government has complied with Accounting Statement 3.

PSAAC is also studying the reporting entity and employee pension issues, the subjects of the second and third Reservations in my audit Opinion on the Government's 1987 financial statements. I would hope that, in the near future, PSAAC recommendations on these issues will be available, and that implementation of them by the Government will allow me to delete Reservations 2 and 3 from my audit Opinion.

The disclosure of and accounting for physical assets is another significant issue being addressed by PSAAC. Accounting Statement 3 requires governments to disclose information about such assets (see Appendix 1, paragraph .65). In addition, a research study is well under way, examining how to account for them.

It will take time for the Government to implement all the recommendations in PSAAC's Accounting Statement 3. New systems and procedures will have to be developed to capture data for physical assets, revenue accruals and financial commitments. Because of this, and because there is no implementation date specified in the Statement, I have not added new Reservations to my Opinion this year respecting departures from Statement 3.

In addition, it will take time for PSAAC to develop and publish additional Statements on the government reporting entity, employee pensions and physical assets. These issues have a significant and pervasive effect on government financial statements. They must be resolved before generally accepted accounting principles for the public sector can be considered to exist. In the meantime, PSAAC Statements are an important authoritative source that governments and their auditors can refer to in assessing the appropriateness of accounting policies and the adequacy of disclosure.

There are other issues that will require attention by PSAAC in future years. We encountered one such issue during our 1987 audit. It concerns transfer payments to prairie grain farmers under the Western Grain Stabilization Act (WGSA). This is one of the Government's "automatic stabilizers" that generates statutory payments when specified conditions warrant. The fundamental issue is whether these types of expenditure should be recognized in the fiscal year that adverse conditions prevail and payments are reasonably estimable (the accrual basis) or in the fiscal year when payments to those entitled are made (the cash basis).

Payments to farmers under the WGSA are very significant. They have been accounted for on the cash basis, even though it seems possible to determine much earlier the crop yields to which the payments relate and the amounts ultimately payable under the program. I have not added a Reservation to my Opinion on the Government's financial statements for failure to account for WGSA payments on the accrual basis because the practicability and the effect on the government's other transfer payment programs of doing so have not yet been studied and assessed.

However, the dollar value of such programs is enormous, and I would encourage both PSAAC and the Government to conduct a study at the earliest possible date of how transfer payment programs should be accounted for.

Progress during the year by the Government

The Government has continued to improve the disclosure of summary financial information this year. Section 1 of this volume has been re-done entirely, and now resembles more closely the financial overview section shown in the FGRS Illustrative Annual Financial Report. In Section 2, a new Statement of Responsibility has been split out from the Preface; Note 1 (ix) has been added to clarify the accounting basis used in preparing the Statement of Use of Appropriations; the other explanatory notes have been re-ordered to follow more closely the order of items appearing in the financial statements; additional note disclosure has been provided for superannuate pensions and annuities, unmatured debt, and contingent liabilities; and a new note has been added that discloses accounts receivable for non-tax revenues, as recommended in PSAAC Accounting Statement 3.

However, there was a matter that concerned me during the year. It was the Government's treatment of the $1 billion Special Canadian Grains Program. The Program was announced by the Prime Minister in October 1986, and was further explained by the Minister of Agriculture in a December news release as "... an equitable, national program that puts straight cash—new money—into the pockets of farmers with no strings attached". The $1 billion was allocated among farmers based on the acreage they seeded in the summer of 1986.

The Government included $300 million of Program expenditure in fiscal 1987 and $700 million in fiscal 1988. By March 1987, Parliament had granted appropriation authority to make these payments in these fiscal years. On reviewing the program, however, we noted an apparent inconsistency between how it was accounted for in the Government's summary financial statements and how it was classified in the Estimates presented to Parliament.

The Special Canadian Grains Program was classified in the Estimates as a "contribution". Had the Government's accounting rules for contributions been followed in reporting expenditures under the program in the summary statements, the $700 million should have been accounted for on the accrual basis and included in fiscal 1987 rather than fiscal 1988.

However, the substance of the Program was more like a "gift" or grant. The Government's accounting rules for grants require that they be accounted for on the cash basis and included in the summary statements in the fiscal year in which they are paid. This is how the Program was accounted for.

I am concerned that the Government classified the Special Canadian Grains Program in the Estimates as a "contribution" because this seems at variance with the fundamental nature or substance of a program under which payments with virtually "no strings attached" are made. And I am concerned that this inconsistency has made it difficult to determine the appropriate accounting treatment for the Program in the Government's summary financial statements. I would encourage the Government to avoid such confusion in future years by ensuring that the classification of amounts in the Estimates corresponds more closely to their nature or substance.

Additional comments on the Special Canadian Grains Program are included in Chapter 6 of my 1987 Report to the House of Commons. In this chapter, I also point out that the use of subsection 5(2) of the Department of Agriculture Act as the legislative basis to create the Program is questionable.

Progress during the year on FGRS

FGRS was a research study undertaken jointly by my Office and the United States General Accounting Office. The purpose of the Study was to identify the financial information about federal governments that users need, with a primary focus on summary-level data. The results of the Study have been provided to Members of Parliament, the Government and PSAAC for their consideration.

During the year, the Standing Senate Committee on National Finance (Senate Finance Committee) and the House of Commons Standing Committee on Public Accounts (PAC) examined and reported on FGRS findings. Findings have also been presented and discussed outside Canada. A summary of the Government's consideration of the 16 significant FGRS findings is in Appendix 2 to these Observations.

In May of this year, the Senate Finance Committee heard testimony concerning whether the Government's accounts receivable should be included in the summary Statement of Assets and Liabilities. At present, accounts receivable are not included in this statement. Revenues are reported when cash is received (see Appendix 1, recommendation at paragraph 81; see also Appendix 2, item 7). As a consequence, amounts shown in the Government's summary statements can be affected significantly by factors that have nothing to do with economic activity during the reporting period. For example, delays at Revenue Canada in issuing refund cheques can inflate reported revenues. Similarly, as will happen next year, a change in the basis of remitting income taxes at source can significantly affect reported revenues and the resulting deficit.

In its Eleventh Report of May 28, 1987, the Senate Finance Committee stated that "... it recognizes the difficulty raised by the witnesses in determining the value of a tax and non-tax receivables. Nevertheless it believes that in principle, all receivables should be accrued and be part of the audited financial statements of the Government of Canada." The Committee recommended that I audit the memorandum records maintained by departments in order to determine the practicability of including accounts receivable in the Government's summary statements. This is being done. In addition, as mentioned earlier, a new note has been added to the Government's financial statements this year that discloses accounts receivable for non-tax revenues.

Also in May, the PAC heard testimony respecting my Opinion and Observations on the Government's 1986 summary statements. In its Eighth Report of June 30, 1987, the Committee stated that it endorses "... the need for a succinct annual financial report for parliamentarians and other users of government financial information" (see Appendix 2, issue 1), and "... the work of the Public Sector Accounting and Auditing Committee (PSAAC) of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants." In addition, the Committee requested the Government to consult with PSAAC in resolving issues raised in my Opinion on the Government's summary statements, and requested the Office of the Comptroller General to provide progress reports on FGRS (by September 30, 1987) and the consolidation of Crown corporations (by September 30, 1988).

The Federal Government Reporting Study has also been well received internationally. Last September, the International Consortium on Governmental Financial Management hosted a two-day conference in Washington, D.C., that focused on our work. In March of this year, FGRS was a major theme at an international symposium on governmental accounting, auditing and financial reporting organized by the University of Illinois at Chicago. Findings are also being considered by the International Organization of Supreme Audit Institutions and by the International Federation of Accountants.

A concluding thought

It seems to me that the accounting profession and those who prepare and use financial statements—particularly Members of Parliament—have accomplished a great deal during the year. The need has never been clearer for overall financial information about the Government that is prepared in accordance with PSAAC recommendations to enhance credibility, and presented in a comprehensive yet succinct Annual Financial Report to enhance understandability. The challenge now is for the Government to respond by reporting more of its summary financial information in the form that people need.

Budgetary Revenue

BUDGETARY REVENUE

Budgetary revenue consists of all tax and non-tax receipts which affect the annual deficit or surplus of the Government.

The Government generally reports revenue in the year in which it is received, with refunds of revenue allocated to the year in which they are actually paid.

Revenue is reported after deducting refunds paid, and excludes amounts receivable, taxes collected on behalf of provinces and territories, and amounts credited to the Canada Pension Plan Account, superannuation accounts, other specified purpose accounts, and other liability accounts.

Revenue for a year, therefore, includes receipts credited to the Receiver General by the Bank of Canada and the chartered banks by March 31, and amounts received in Government offices by March 31, but not deposited until April, or not credited to the Receiver General until April. Revenue also includes the amounts received in the mail on the first working day of April, except where it is clear that it was the remitter's intention to discharge an obligation arising in the new year.

The yield from tax revenue is affected by changes in tax rates, by changes in the base on which taxes are calculated, and by variations in economic conditions. A taxpayer's income tax liability relates to the income of a taxation year, but advance collection of personal and corporation income taxes by payroll deductions and instalments results in a distribution of receipts throughout the year.

The major tax changes which had an effect on the tax revenue for 1986-87 are:

- personal income tax—in 1986, the federal tax reduction was eliminated; beginning in the 1986 tax year, the indexation of personal income tax exemptions and tax brackets was restricted to the annual increase in the Consumer Price Index that exceeds 3 per cent; a 3 per cent surtax on basic federal tax was introduced, effective July 1, 1986; while the high-income surtax introduced on July 1, 1985 became fully phased-in in the 1986 tax year; the refundable sales tax credit was introduced in the 1986 tax year; a portion of the refundable child tax credit was prepaid in November 1986; the limits on RRSP and certain pension contributions were increased beginning in the 1986 tax year; the disability deduction was enhanced to include all severely disabled Canadians, effective for the 1986 tax year; the cumulative lifetime exemption increased to $25,000 of taxable capital gains in 1986; and, effective with the 1986 tax year, the taxation of dividends from taxable Canadian corporations under the minimum tax base was based on the cash dividend received by individuals and not on the grossed-up amounts;

- corporation income tax—the inventory allowance was eliminated, effective February 26, 1986; a 3 per cent surtax was imposed on the federal income tax payable by all corporations, effective January 1, 1987; commencing January 1, 1986, a temporary two-year tax on larger financial institutions regulated under the Bank Act, the Quebec Savings Bank Act and under federal and provincial trust and/or loan corporation legislation was imposed at an annual rate of 1 per cent of capital employed in Canada in excess of $200 million; the Scientific Research Tax Credit was eliminated effective May 23, 1985; the refundable portion of the tax credit earned by small Canadian-controlled private corporations was increased from 40 per cent of the credit earned to 100 per cent, effective for qualifying expenditures on scientific research and experimental development made after May 23, 1985; the special investment tax credit of 50 per cent for investment in manufacturing in designated areas, which was due to expire at the end of 1985, was extended one year until December 31, 1986; and, the Small Business Bond Program, due to expire at the end of 1985, was extended for a further two years;
- non-resident income tax—the exemption from the non-resident withholding tax for interest payments on certain long-term debt obligations of corporations and on debt obligations of Canadian governments was extended for such debt obligations issued before 1989;
- sales tax—the federal sales tax was increased 1 percentage point on January 1, 1986 and again on April 1, 1986; tourist literature was made exempt from the sales tax commencing February 27, 1986; the fuel tax rebate offered to farmers, fishermen, loggers and mine operators on purchases of gasoline and diesel fuel for off-highway use in commercial activities was extended for one year, effective January 1, 1987; the special relieving provisions for construction goods manufactured away from the construction site were removed, effective July 1, 1985; and, the exemption from the federal sales tax applying to a range of consumer goods was ended effective July 1, 1985;

- excise taxes and duties—effective February 27, 1986, the tax on alcoholic beverages was increased 4 per cent and the tax on cigarettes and other tobacco products was increased 6 per cent; the automatic indexation of excise levies on alcoholic beverages and tobacco products was eliminated effective September 1, 1985, while the existing specific excise levies on spirits, beer and wine were increased by 2 per cent and the specific excise levies on cigarettes were increased by 1 cent;
- customs import duties—as scheduled under the Multilateral Trade Negotiations, the eighth and final annual tariff reduction was implemented in January 1987; and, tariffs were reimposed on a range of US imports including books, periodicals, computer components and other items on June 6, 1986, and subsequently eliminated on February 19, 1987;
- petroleum and gas revenue tax (PGRT)—effective May 1, 1986, the 6 per cent PGRT rate on revenue from the synthetic oil production was reduced to zero and the small producers' credit was increased from $500,000 to $2 million on PGRT payable from production revenue; effective October 1, 1986, the PGRT was eliminated; and,
- other energy taxes—the introduction of a 2 cents per litre rebate for farmers from the excise tax on gasoline, effective May 1, 1986; the excise tax on motor gasoline, aviation gasoline, diesel fuel and aviation turbo fuel was increased 1 cent per litre, effective January 1, 1987; and, the fuel tax rebate for farmers was increased 1 cent per litre, effective January 1, 1987.

Changes to the effective interest date in 1986-87 for tax remittances resulted in increased revenues of approximately $200 million. Under previous procedures, this revenue would have been reported in the 1987-88 fiscal year.

Under fiscal arrangements that became operative in 1962, the federal Government entered into tax collection agreements to collect the personal income taxes of all provinces and territories (except Quebec) and the corporation income taxes of all provinces and territories (except Ontario and Quebec). Personal and corporation income taxes collected by the federal Government on behalf of the provinces and territories are not included in the tables shown hereunder.

Revenue by Main Classification and Source

Table 4.1 presents revenue by main classification and source on both a gross and net basis and segregates revenue internal to the Government from revenue from outside parties. The difference between gross and net revenue is revenue credited to appropriations.

In this table, revenue from outside parties represents revenue received from organizations and individuals outside the Government of Canada as an accounting entity while revenue internal to the Government represents revenue generated from transactions between organizations within the accounting entity. The Government of Canada as an accounting entity is defined in Note 1 to the audited financial statements in Section 2 of this volume.

Revenue credited to appropriations represents revenue that has been credited to expenditure rather than to revenue where authority has been granted by Parliament.

"Total net revenue" represents all budgetary revenue recorded in the accounts of Canada in accordance with the accounting policies of the Government. "Total gross revenue" is derived by adding to "Total net revenue" all "Revenue credited to appropriations".

Tax Revenue

The major tax changes which had an effect on the tax revenue for 1986-87 are listed at the beginning of this section.

Personal Income Tax

This tax is levied on personal income under the provisions of the Income Tax Act.

In 1986-87, personal income tax was the largest source of Government revenue. It amounted to $37,878 million, or 44% of total net revenue.

Corporation Income Tax

This tax is levied on corporation income under the provisions of the Income Tax Act.

Corporation income tax amounted to $9,885 million in 1986-87, or 12% of total net revenue.

Unemployment Insurance Contributions

This account records the contributions from employers and employees to the Unemployment Insurance Account.

Non-Resident Income Tax

The non-resident income tax is levied on the income earned in Canada by non-residents. It is derived from tax withheld from dividends, interest, rents, royalties, alimony, and income from estates and trusts, paid to non-residents. It amounted to $1,355 million in 1986-87, or 2% of total net revenue.

Excise Taxes and Duties

Excise taxes and duties totalled $21,067 million in 1986-87, or 25% of total net revenue.

Sales tax

The sales tax, totalling $12,022 million in 1986-87, was the most important tax levied under the Excise Tax Act. It was increased by 1 percentage point on January 1, 1986 and again on April 1, 1986.

Customs import duties

The revenues from customs import duties, consisting mainly of ad valorem taxes on the importation of goods, totalled $4,191 million in 1986-87.

Excise duties

Excise duties, which totalled $1,470 million in 1986-87, are levied on alcoholic beverages (other than wines) and tobacco products. (Additional taxes on tobacco products and taxes on wines are levied under the Excise Tax Act.)

Excise tax—Gasoline

The excise tax on gasoline and aviation gasoline for personal use was increased 1 cent per litre, effective January 1, 1987.

Net receipts from the excise tax—Gasoline were $1,279 million in 1986-87. Under certain conditions, the amounts received may be refunded to purchasers. As of March 31, 1987, $1,340 million was received, and $61 million was refunded and charged to revenue.

Petroleum and gas revenue tax and incremental oil revenue tax

The petroleum and gas revenue tax came into effect on January 1, 1981, and was applicable to net operating revenues related to the production of oil and gas. Effective May 1, 1986, the 6 per cent tax rate on revenue from the synthetic oil production was reduced to zero. The petroleum and gas revenue tax was eliminated effective October 1, 1986.

The incremental oil revenue tax was eliminated effective June 1, 1985.

Aviation gas and diesel fuel

This tax, which came into effect during 1985-86, is imposed on diesel fuel and aviation turbo fuel. It was increased 1 cent per litre, effective January 1, 1987.

Natural gas and gas liquids tax

This tax, which came into effect during 1980-81, was imposed on all sales of natural gas and gas liquids. It was eliminated effective June 1, 1985.

Oil export charges

Oil export charges were collected in respect of oil produced in, and exported from, provinces.

The oil export charges were eliminated effective June 1, 1985.

Canadian Ownership special charge

This special charge was levied to increase public ownership of the oil and gas industry in Canada. It was eliminated effective June 1, 1985.

Non-Tax Revenue

Return on Investments

Return on investments consists mainly of interest from loans and advances, transfer of profits and surpluses, and rental income from properties.

Return on investments is summarized in Table 4.2. In 1986-87, the presentation of this table has been changed to agree the total ministerial return on investments amount as reported in Table 6 in Section 1 of Volume II (Part I) to the amount as reported in Table 4.1. The reconciling items include the Exchange Fund Account adjustment to recognize the international reserves held in the Account and the interest on loans to the Unemployment Insurance Account. The return on investments internal to the Government has been deducted from the total net return on investments to obtain the total net return on investments from outside parties. Revenue credited to appropriations from outside parties has been added to the latter to obtain total gross return on investments from outside parties.

ESTIMATES AND APPROPRIATIONS

Parliamentary Spending Authorities

The Government submits its spending proposals to Parliament in the annual Estimates. During the year, the Government may request further appropriations. The initial request is called the "Main Estimates" and additional requests are called "Supplementary Estimates". With these Estimates, the Government requests authority for that part of the proposed spending which is not already provided by other statutes. The amounts making up the total of such proposed spending are authorized in appropriation acts and are generally referred to as "annual" authorities. The balance of the planned spending is made under authority of other statutes which authorize disbursements for specified purposes, and for such amounts and time periods as are set by those acts. The proposed or estimated uses of most of these "statutory" authorities for the current year are included in the Estimates for information purposes; however, they are not included in appropriation acts because they have already been authorized by Parliament.

Annual authorities, with few exceptions, lapse at the end of the year if not used, while statutory authorities, with few exceptions, are carried forward to future years. Those authorities which extend to subsequent years are referred to as "non-lapsing".

Both the budgetary expenditure amounts and the non-budgetary requirements for loans, investments and advances are included under each type of spending authority, annual and statutory.

Table 5.1 presents, for the year ended March 31, 1987, a summary of parliamentary spending authorities requested and approved (annual authority), and estimated uses of authorities already granted (statutory authority).

A Statement of Use of Appropriations by ministry, as examined by the Auditor General, is presented in Section 2 of this volume. Additional details on the use of appropriations by ministry and by type (annual and statutory) are given in Section 1 (Table 3) of Volume II (Part I), and in the ministerial sections of the same volume.

Source and Disposition of Authorities— Annual and Statutory Budgetary appropriations provide spending authority for those transactions which enter into the calculation of the annual deficit or surplus of the Government. Non-budgetary appropriations provide spending authority for all transactions which result in the acquisition or disposal of loans, investments and advances. Balances of appropriations brought forward from the previous years are available for spending, together with current increases to such authorities.

The totals of these authorities are reduced by the amount of their current year use to determine the balances which lapse, are overexpended or are carried forward to future years, depending upon the type of authority. In cases where the spending of loan repayments is authorized, the non-budgetary spending is reported net of such repayments.

Table 5.2 presents details of the total available parliamentary spending authorities. They include authorities available from previous years, parliamentary spending authorities as per Table 5.1 and various adjustments which are explained in the notes to the table.

Table 5.3 presents a summary of the source and disposition of authorities by type (annual and statutory) for the year ended March 31, 1987.

Further ministerial details are presented in Section 1 (Table 3) of Volume II (Part I).

BUDGETARY EXPENDITURE

Budgetary expenditure consists of all charges to budgetary appropriations which affect the annual deficit or surplus of the Government. In addition, budgetary expenditure may also include charges related to the provision for valuation of loans, investments and advances, the allowance for borrowings of agent Crown corporations, and accounts payable and other allowances related to statutory items and certain annual appropriations. Such charges include those for work performed, goods received, services rendered, and transfer payments made, during the year and in the supplementary period including accounts payable at year end.

Expenditure excludes amounts charged to the Canada Pension Plan Account, superannuation accounts, other specified purpose accounts, and other liability accounts.

Expenditure by Envelope

The increasing complexity of Government responsibilities and the limited resources available to meet those responsibilities led to the policy and expenditure management system. Under this system, the Government manages the resources made available to it by "envelope". Each envelope represents the resources allocated to a particular policy sector for all elements of ministerial spending that relates to that sector.

Expenditure by Envelope and Source

Table 6.1 presents expenditure by envelope and source. The table is presented on both a gross and net basis and segregates expenditure with outside parties from expenditure internal to the Government. The difference between gross and net expenditure is revenue credited to appropriations.

⁽²⁾ Reflected on the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit in Section 2 of this volume.

⁽³⁾ Additional information is provided in Table 4 in Section 1 of Volume II (Part I).

In this table, expenditure with outside parties represents expenditure incurred as a result of transactions with organizations and individuals outside the Government of Canada as an accounting entity while expenditure internal to the Government represents expenditure incurred as a result of transactions between organizations within the accounting entity. The Government of Canada as an accounting entity is defined in Note 1 to the audited financial statements in Section 2 of this volume.

Revenue credited to appropriations represents revenue that has been credited to expenditure rather than to revenue where authority has been granted by Parliament.

"Total net expenditure" represents all budgetary expenditure recorded in the accounts of Canada in accordance with the accounting policies of the Government. "Total gross expenditure" is derived by adding to "Total net expenditure" all "Revenue credited to appropriations".

SUPPLEMENTARY STATEMENTS

Public Debt Charges

Public debt charges include interest on unmatured debt (including Canada and Treasury bills), on specified purpose accounts and on other accounts, cost of issuing new loans, amortization of bond discounts, premiums and commissions, and the costs of servicing the public debt.

The increase of $816 million in public debt charges related to unmatured debt is commensurate with an increase in the debt, which rose from $201,517 million at March 31, 1986 to $229,491 million at March 31, 1987. The increase of $400 million in public debt charges related to specified purpose accounts was due mainly to an increase in the balances of superannuation accounts.

A comparative summary of public debt charges is presented in Table 6.3. In 1986-87, changes in the presentation of the table have been made in order to disclose in greater detail the consolidated specified purpose accounts and the reconciling items between total public debt charges as reported in the Finance ministerial section (Section 9) of Volume II (Part I) and the total net expenditure of the public debt envelope as per Table 6.1. The reconciling items include the expenditure of the consolidated specified purpose accounts and the provision for valuation. Expenditure internal to the Government has been deducted from the total net expenditure of the public debt envelope to obtain the total net expenditure with outside parties. Since no portion of revenue credited to appropriations applies to the public debt envelope, the total gross public debt envelope is identical to the total net public debt envelope.

Expenditure under Statutory Authority

The spending authority provided by statutory appropriations is for specified purposes and for such amounts and such time as the acts prescribe. This spending authority does not generally lapse at the end of the year in which it is granted. Expenditure under such authority accounts for more than half of the total net expenditure each year.

Table 6.4 presents a comparative summary of these statutory expenditures. In 1986-87, changes in the presentation of the table have been made in order to disclose the reconciling items between the total ministerial expenditure under statutory authority and the total net statutory expenditure. The reconciling items include the statutory expenditure of the consolidated specified purpose accounts and the provision for valuation. Expenditure internal to the Government has been deducted from the total net statutory expenditure to obtain the total net statutory expenditure with outside parties. Revenue credited to appropriations from outside parties has been added to the latter to obtain the total gross statutory expenditure with outside parties.

CONSOLIDATED SPECIFIED PURPOSE ACCOUNTS

Consolidated specified purpose accounts are categories of budgetary revenue and expenditure which report transactions of certain accounts where enabling legislation requires that revenues be earmarked, and that related payments and expenditures be charged against such revenues. Such accounts collect primarily receipts of a tax nature, and include: the Unemployment Insurance Account, the Canadian Ownership Account, the Western Grain Stabilization Account, the Oil Export Charges Revenue Sharing Account, the Crop Reinsurance Fund and the Agricultural Commodities Stabilization Accounts.

In the past, earmarked revenues were credited to non-budgetary accounts, with related offsetting payments and expenditures charged thereto. Commencing with 1985-86 (1984-85 for the Canadian Ownership Account), the transactions of these accounts are reported with budgetary revenue and expenditure, in order to provide a more comprehensive reporting of the Government's operating results.

Further, enabling legislation requires that the transactions in each of these accounts be accounted for separately. Table 7.1 presents a summary of the balances and transactions of these accounts, in the manner required by legislation.

The financial statements of the Unemployment Insurance Account, together with the Auditor General's report thereon, are presented at the end of this section.

Unemployment Insurance Account

The Unemployment Insurance Act provides for a compulsory contributory unemployment insurance program applicable to all employees, with few exceptions.

The Act authorizes an account in the accounts of Canada to be known as the Unemployment Insurance Account.

The Act provides that the following be credited to the Account: (a) premiums, fines, penalties and interest; (b) Government share of benefits paid; (c) refunds of overpayments of benefits, and benefit repayments; (d) amounts for services rendered to other Government departments or agencies, or to the public; (e) amounts provided for any other purpose related to unemployment insurance and authorized by an appropriation administered by the Canada Employment and Immigration Commission; and, (f) interest on the balance of the Account at such rates as the Minister of Finance may authorize. The Act also provides that the following be charged to the Account: (a) benefits paid under the Act; (b) costs of administering the Act; and (c) interest on advances made by the Minister of Finance.

Maximum weekly employee premiums were $11.63 from April 1, 1986 to December 31, 1986 and $12.46 from January 1, 1987 to March 31, 1987. For the same periods, maximum weekly benefits were $297 from April 1, 1986 to December 31, 1986 and $318 from January 1, 1987 to March 31, 1987.

Interest bearing loans are made to the Unemployment Insurance Account, under Section 137(1) of the Unemployment Insurance Act, as a result of deficiencies in contributions from employers and employees. The balance outstanding as at March 31, 1987 bears interest at rates between 8.045% and 12% per annum, and is repayable between April 30, 1987 and March 31, 1989.

Within the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit, receipts and other credits of $9,558 million ($8,719 million in 1986), are reported as revenue, while payments and other charges of $11,257 million ($10,745 million in 1986), are reported as expenditure.

Receipts and other credits of $5,987 million ($3,587 million in 1986) and payments and other charges of $4,473 million ($1,405 million in 1986), internal to the operations of the Government, have been eliminated, in order to present transactions with outside parties, only.

Canadian Ownership Account

This account was established under the authority of Energy, Mines and Resources Vote 5c, Appropriation Act No 4, 1980-81. The account was credited with amounts received from the Canadian Ownership special charge levied to increase public ownership of the oil and gas industry in Canada.

The special charge was cancelled due to deregulation on June 1, 1985. Therefore, any transactions since then are as a result of adjustments due to audits.

Within the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit, receipts and other credits of –$1 million ($229 million in 1986), are reported as revenue.

Oil Export Charges Revenue Sharing Account

This account recorded the share of the oil export charges that was payable to oil producing provinces, in accordance with the Energy Administration Act. The share of oil export charges was in respect of oil produced in, and exported from, the provinces of British Columbia, Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan. The charges were cancelled due to deregulation on June 1, 1985. Therefore, any transactions since then are as a result of adjustments due to audits.

Within the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit, there were no receipts and other credits reported as revenue in 1987 ($142 million reported as revenue in 1986), nor were there any payments and other charges reported as expenditure ($142 million reported as expenditure in 1986). However, an amount of $297,718 payable to oil producing provinces at March 31, 1986 was paid in 1986-87 (details are provided in Table 9.15 in Section 9 of this volume).

Western Grain Stabilization Account

The purpose of the Western Grain Stabilization Act is to protect prairie grain producers from unexpected and large income declines, through the stabilization of returns on the production and sale of wheat, oats, barley, rye, mustard seed, canola and flax seed as well as any other seed that may be prescribed which is: (a) produced in the designated area and, (b) named in Schedule 1 to the Canada Grain Act and designated therein as "Canada Western".

This account records funds for this purpose which are received from:

- levies paid by participating producers—Ranging from 1% to 2½% of grain sales proceeds to an annual maximum of $60,000 eligible proceeds per participant;
- Government contributions equal to levies paid by producers plus an additional 2% of the participating eligible grain sales proceeds of all participants; and,
- interest on the amount standing to the credit of the Account, at rates and in accordance with terms and conditions determined by the Minister of Finance.

Within the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit, receipts and other credits of $25 million ($30 million in 1986), are reported as revenue, while payments and other charges of $855 million ($526 million in 1986), are reported as expenditure.

Receipts and other credits of $77 million ($133 million in 1986), internal to the operations of the Government, have been eliminated in order to present transactions with outside parties, only.

Crop Reinsurance Fund

This Fund, established by Section 5(1) of the Crop Insurance Act, provides insurance to participating provinces for costs they incur in operating various crop insurance schemes.

The revenue of the Fund comes from moneys paid by the provinces for the purpose of reinsurance and the expenditure of the Fund are moneys paid to the provinces under the terms of reinsurance agreements.

Within the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit, receipts and other credits of $54 million ($48 million in 1986), are reported as revenue, while payments and other charges of $287 million ($98 million in 1986), are reported as expenditure.

Agricultural Commodities Stabilization Accounts

The purpose of these accounts is to reduce income loss to producers from market risks through stabilizing prices. Premiums are shared equally by the Government of Canada, the governments of participating provinces and participating producers. These premiums should equal the total paid over time. There are four active accounts as follows:

- (a) hogs;
- (b) slaughter cattle;
- (c) feeder calves; and,
- (d) lambs.

These accounts were established in the accounts of Canada, in the 1986-87 fiscal year, pursuant to Section 10.2 of the Agricultural Stabilization Act.

Within the Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit, receipts and other credits of $47 million are reported as revenue, while payments and other charges of $4 million are reported as expenditure.

Receipts and other credits of $27 million, internal to the operations of the Government, have been eliminated in order to present transactions with outside parties, only.

AUDITOR'S REPORT

TO THE MINISTER OF EMPLOYMENT AND IMMIGRATION

I have examined the balance sheet of the Canada Employment and Immigration Commission relating to the Unemployment Insurance Account as at December 31, 1986 and the statement of revenue, expenses and deficit for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Commission relating to the Unemployment Insurance Account as at December 31, 1986 and the results of its operations for the year then ended in accordance with the accounting policies set out in Note 2 to the financial statements applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS DECEMBER 31, 1986

1. Authority and objective

The Canada Employment and Immigration Commission, a departmental corporation named in Schedule B to the Financial Administration Act, administers the Unemployment Insurance Act, 1971 as amended. The objective of the Act is to provide short-term financial relief and other assistance to eligible workers. The financial transactions relating to this objective are reported through the Unemployment Insurance Account.

In the accounts of Canada, the Unemployment Insurance Account was established by Section 131 of the Act. All amounts received under the Act are deposited in the Consolidated Revenue Fund and credited to this Account. Benefits and the cost of administration of the Act are paid out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund and charged to this Account.

Under Part IV of the Act, the Minister of National Revenue is responsible for collecting premiums from employers and employees.

2. Accounting policies

(a) Premiums

The premiums are recorded based on an estimate of the amount to be collected in the current year and include adjustments between actual and estimated premiums of prior years.

(b) Penalties

Penalties, levied pursuant to Section 47 of the Act, are recorded on an accrual basis.

(c) Benefits

Benefits represent warrants issued during the year less benefit overpayments identified by the Commission during the year and benefit repayments estimated to be receivable under Section 142 of the Act including adjustments between actual and estimated repayments of prior years.

(d) Administration

The costs of administration of the Act are determined by the Unemployment Insurance Regulations and are charged to the Account by the Commission.

(e) Interest

Interest on the balance of the account with Receiver General for Canada and interest on advances from Canada are recorded on an accrual basis.

(f) Government's share of benefits

The government's share of benefits is recorded on an accrual basis.

Canada Employment and Immigration Commission relating to the Unemployment Insurance Account—Continued

3. Restatement of prior year

The Commission completed a study to estimate the overcharge to the Government's share of benefits due to the methods used to administer claimants' records of employment. The overcharges were estimated at $73,223,000 for 1985 and $69,617,000 for 1986. The estimate for prior years is unavailable due to the difficulty in obtaining the necessary information and the cost involved.

The 1985 comparative figures in the financial statements were restated accordingly. The Government's share of benefits and the excess of revenue over expenses for the year ended December 31, 1985 and the amount due from Canada as at that date have been reduced by $73,223,000. The deficit at December 31, 1985 has been increased by the same amount and the balance of this account as at January 1st, 1985 has remained the same as previously reported.

Advances from Canada are made under Section 137 of the Act and the Unemployment Insurance Account Advance Regulations, by means of promissory notes which bear annual interest compounded semi-annually at rates varying from 9.125% to 12.00%. The balance as at December 31 consists of:

7. Overpayments and underpayments of benefits

The large number of claimants to be monitored and the requirement for prompt service require selective internal control procedures rather than universal and therefore the verification of claims is mainly done after claimants have begun to receive benefits.

As a result, overpayments and underpayments of benefits exist which the Commission estimated at $316 million ($270 million in 1985) and $123 million ($109 million in 1985) respectively. These amounts are included in the benefits for the year.

8. Contingent liabilities

In the normal course of the operations of the Unemployment Insurance Account, certain appeals against or by the Commission are presently outstanding. In the opinion of management, the result of these appeals will not have a significant impact on the operations of the Unemployment Insurance Account.

9. Subsequent event

On June 26, 1987, Bill C-50 received Royal Assent. This Act concerns the treatment of pension payments in determining certain unemployment insurance benefits entitlements retroactive to January 5, 1986. Pursuant to this Act, approximately $123 million in benefits were paid subsequent to June 26, 1987. As benefit payments are recorded on a cash basis, no provision was made as at December 31, 1986.

Extended benefits under Subsection 38(8) and 39(3) of the Act are benefits paid to claimants on job creation projects or training courses and whose entitlements are not enough to cover the duration of the project or course plus an additional maximum of three weeks of entitlement after the projects or courses end.

LOANS, INVESTMENTS AND ADVANCES

Loans, investments and advances is a category of financial claims represented by debt instruments and ownership interests held by the Government of Canada, acquired through the use of parliamentary appropriations. Some of these appropriations permit repayments to be used for further loans and advances. Many appropriations are non-lapsing, that is, unexpended balances may be carried forward from year to year. Details of the use of non-budgetary appropriations, for loans, investments and advances, can be found in the ministerial sections of Volume II (Part I).

Loans, investments and advances are recorded at cost and are subject to valuation to reflect estimated losses on realization. Foreign currency transactions are translated and recorded in Canadian dollar equivalents at the exchange rates prevailing at the transaction dates. Loans, investments and advances resulting from foreign currency transactions are, in turn, reported at year-end closing rates of exchange; net gains are credited to revenue as premium and discount on exchange, while net losses are charged to budgetary expenditure of the Department of Finance.

The allowance established to reflect estimated losses on realization of financial claims held by the Government has been authorized by the Minister of Finance and the President of the Treasury Board, under Section 54(2)(b) of the Financial Administration Act.

Revenue received during the year on loans, investments and advances, is credited to return on investments; details are given in Section 11 of Volume II (Part II). In accordance with stated accounting policies, accrued interest and interest due but not received are not reported as revenue. Table 8.19 gives details of recorded uncollected interest.

Transactions and year-end balances of loans, investments and advances are presented as follows:

- Crown corporations;
- provincial and territorial governments;
- national governments including developing countries;
- international organizations;
- Veterans' Land Act Fund advances;
- joint and mixed enterprises; and,
- miscellaneous.

Transactions and balances are further summarized in Sections 1 and 2 of this volume.

Some tables in this section present the continuity of accounts, by showing the opening and closing balances, as well as receipts and other credits, and payments and other charges. In addition, the term "account(s) without current transactions" has been included in some tables, to show the net result of transactions in accounts which were closed out in the previous year.

CROWN CORPORATIONS

Loans and advances to, and investments in, Crown corporations represent the balance of financial claims held by the Government against corporations for working capital, capital expenditure and other purposes, investment in the capital stock of corporations, and loans and advances to corporations for re-lending.

A Crown corporation means a parent Crown corporation or a wholly-owned subsidiary; a parent Crown corporation is wholly-owned directly by the Crown; a wholly-owned subsidiary is wholly-owned by one or more parent Crown corporations directly or indirectly through any number of subsidiaries each of which is wholly-owned directly or indirectly by one or more parent Crown corporations. These include the corporations listed in Parts I and II of Schedule C of the Financial Administration Act, the Bank of Canada, the Canada Council, the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, the Canadian Film Development Corporation, the Canadian Institute for International Peace and Security, the Canadian Wheat Board, the International Development Research Centre, and the National Arts Centre Corporation.

A Crown corporation is ultimately accountable to Parliament, through a minister of the Crown, for the conduct of its affairs. Most of the Crown corporations listed in the schedules to the Financial Administration Act are agents of Her Majesty in right of Canada. This status is granted in one of the following ways:

- (i) designation by Parliament, through a special act of incorporation;
- (ii) statutory authorization; and,
- (iii) proclamation by the Government Companies Operation Act.

Financial statements of parent Crown corporations can be found in Volume III of the Public Accounts. The financial statements of wholly-owned subsidiaries of Crown corporations are also included in that volume whenever their accounts are not consolidated with those of the parent corporation. These financial statements are appended to those of the related parent Crown corporation.

Lending Institutions

Table 8.2 presents a summary of the balances and transactions for the various types of loans, investments and advances which were made to Crown corporations whose primary activity is to provide financial assistance.

Summary Financial Statements of Crown Corporations

Table 8.4 presents summary combined financial statements as at March 31, 1987 of the Crown corporations named in Section 96 or Schedule C of the Financial Administration Act. Table 8.5 displays the assets and liabilities and Table 8.6 the revenues, expenses and changes in equity of each corporation. For those corporations with March 31 year ends, the data are based on audited financial statements. For those corporations having other year ends, the data are based on unaudited interim financial statements which have been prepared on a basis consistent with the most recent audited financial statements.

The Crown corporations have been grouped in five segments. The category of competitive, self-sustaining corporations consists of those corporations named in Schedule C Part II of the Financial Administration Act.

The tables summarize the financial transactions and results of operations of each Crown corporation in accordance with its own respective accounting policies. Most Crown corporations follow the generally accepted accounting principles used by private sector companies, as outlined in the Handbook of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants.

Financial assets include cash, receivables, loans and investments. Physical assets and deferred charges represent the unexpensed portion of non-financial assets such as buildings, machinery and equipment in use or under construction, inventories and other items of expenditure which will be expensed as these assets are used. Financial assets and liabilities in respect of the Government and other Crown corporations represent the unpaid balances arising from financing transactions and normal operating activities. Borrowings from outside parties represent amounts repayable to institutional and other investors. Other liabilities are amounts due in respect of purchases, employee termination and pension benefits, accrued interest on borrowings, long-term capital leases and sundry accounts payable. Net assets/liabilities represent the Government's equity in each Crown corporation as reported by that corporation.

Revenues include financial assistance received or receivable from the Government in respect of the current year's operations. Other net changes in equity include dividends declared, transfers of profits to the Government and non-current financial assistance provided by the Government.

Crown corporations are defined to include either parent Crown corporations or wholly-owned subsidiaries. A wholly-owned subsidiary is wholly-owned by one or more parent Crown corporations. These tables present consolidated financial information on parent Crown corporations and financial information on unconsolidated wholly-owned subsidiaries. Volume III of the Public Accounts includes a complete list of all parent Crown corporations, wholly-owned subsidiaries, other subsidiaries and associates.

Crown corporations are also categorized as being either agents or non-agents of the Crown. Agency status may be expressly stated in the incorporating legislation or conferred under the provisions of the Government Companies Operation Act. In accordance with Section 45 of the Financial Administration Act, the payment of all money borrowed by agent Crown corporations and interest thereon is a charge on and payable out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund. Such borrowings therefore constitute obligations of the Government and are recorded as such in the summary financial statements of Canada net of borrowings expected to be repaid directly by these corporations. The gross amounts of such borrowings are included under "Liabilities, Outside Parties". A summary of such borrowings and the changes during the year ended March 31, 1987 is presented in Table 8.7.

Borrowings by non-agent Crown corporations are not, in law, obligations of the Government. However, when the Government expressly guarantees such borrowings, they become potential obligations of the Government. Such guarantees amounted to $93.6 million as at March 31, 1987. A summary of borrowing transactions by non-agent Crown corporations is presented in Table 8.8. The maturity of all Crown corporations' borrowings is presented in Table 8.9. Contingent liabilities of Crown corporations are presented in Table 8.10.

A summary of financial assistance under Government budgetary appropriations to Crown corporations for the year ended March 31, 1987 is provided in Table 8.11. Differences in figures reported in Table 8.6 and those reported in Table 8.11 represent amounts capitalized by Crown corporations and timing differences resulting from the use of different accounting policies and from items in transit.

⁽¹⁾ This column records only that portion of financial assistance received or receivable from the federal Government that has been credited to operations. A further amount of $371,983 has been capitalized by the corporations and is included in "Other net changes in equity". Revenues "other" include amounts generated from the sale of goods or services, investment income as well as grants where the corporation qualifies as a member of a general class of recipients. The total financial assistance accounted for by the corporations during the year does not agree with the amounts reported in Table 8.11 because of timing differences resulting from the different accounting policies followed.

Borrowings by Agent Crown Corporations

Table 8.7 summarizes the borrowing transactions by agent Crown corporations made on behalf of Her Majesty. This information is published to satisfy Section 40 of the Financial Administration Act (FAA) which requires that "An annual statement of all borrowing transactions on behalf of Her Majesty shall be included in the Public Accounts". The borrowings are from other than the Government. In accordance with Section 45 of the FAA, the payment of all money borrowed by agent Crown corporations and interest thereon is a charge on and payable out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund. Such borrowings therefore constitute obligations of the Government and are recorded as such in the summary financial statements of Canada net of borrowings expected to be repaid directly by these corporations. As at March 31, 1987, an allowance for borrowings expected to be repaid by the Government was established at $100 million.

Borrowings by non-agent Crown corporations are not included in this table because such borrowings are not on behalf of Her Majesty. Table 8.8 provides information on borrowings of such corporations.

Table 8.11 summarizes financial assistance under budgetary appropriations for both agent and non-agent Crown corporations. It should be read in conjunction with Table 8.4. The purpose for which payments have been made under budgetary appropriations is segregated between: (a) amounts to cover operating expenses and (b) amounts for capital expenditures.

All amounts reported represent charges to appropriations or authorities approved by Parliament.

Interest for 1956, and interest and principal for 1957, 1964, 1965, 1968 and 1976 were deferred. The maturity of the deferrals is to commence December 31, 2001, and continue until December 31, 2006.

Developing countries—International development assistance

Loan assistance has been made to developing countries for international development assistance. Commencing April 1, 1986, loans under negotiated loan agreements in existence at March 31, 1986 are made under budgetary authority (External Affairs Vote 35, Appropriation Acts No 1 and No 2, 1986-87). Previous to this date, all loans to developing countries were paid under non-budgetary authority.

The following table presents the balances and transactions for the loans made to developing countries, together with their terms and conditions of repayments. The closing balance of loans to individual countries includes, where applicable, total payments made under both budgetary and non-budgetary authorities. The total budgetary payments to all countries are deducted as a lump sum amount under the caption "Payments made under budgetary authority" at the end of the table to arrive at the amount reported in Table 8.13 as international development assistance to developing countries.

Development of export trade

Pursuant to Section 31 of the Export Development Act, the Governor in Council may authorize the Corporation to make loans to foreign customers where the liability is for a term, or in an amount in excess of that normally assumed by the Corporation. Such loans are financed directly by payments out of the Consolidated Revenue Fund and are administered by the Corporation on behalf of the Government of Canada.

During the year, receipts and other credits included loan repayments of $29,625,454, a valuation adjustment of $16,378,158 in respect of loans totalling $180,705,993 US, and a transfer of $5,385,672 to the Development of export trade account under the caption "Miscellaneous loans, investments and advances", while payments and other charges included loans and guarantees of $13,768,680. Interest of $34.7 million was received and credited to Non-tax revenue—Return on investments.

The following table presents the balances and transactions for the loans made to national governments, together with their terms and conditions of repayments:

North Atlantic Treaty Organization—Damage claims recoverable

Article VIII of the NATO Status of Forces Agreement signed April 4, 1949, as amended, deals with claims for damages to third parties arising from accidents in which a member of a visiting force is involved. This account is charged with the amount recoverable from other states, for claims for damages which took place in Canada, and is credited with recoveries.

The advances are non-interest bearing and have no specific repayment terms.

INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

This group records Canada's subscriptions to the capital of the African Development Bank, the Asian Development Bank, the Caribbean Development Bank, the Inter-American Development Bank, the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (i.e. World Bank), the International Development Association and the International Finance Corporation. It also includes loans and advances to other international organizations.

Capital subscriptions are made in part by the issuance of non-interest bearing, non-negotiable demand notes. The amounts advanced or loaned vary according to the needs of the organizations concerned, and the terms of the agreements.

The net position of the Government vis-à-vis the international organizations has been obtained by deducting from subscriptions, loans and advances, the non-interest bearing notes issued by Canada to these organizations. These notes, payable on demand, represent that portion of the investment by Canada in these organizations which has not yet been encashed by them. These notes are encashed subject to the financial requirements of these organizations.

Commencing April 1, 1986, note encashments, and cash subscriptions/loans to international financial institutions are now made under budgetary authority. However, subscriptions/loans made by the issuance of non-interest bearing notes continue to be under non-budgetary authority.

Table 8.14 presents a summary of the balances and transactions for the subscriptions, loans and advances to international organizations. The closing balance of loans/subscriptions to international financial institutions includes, where applicable, total loans/subscriptions made under both budgetary and non-budgetary authorities. The total budgetary payments to all international financial institutions are deducted as a lump sum amount under the caption "Payments made under budgetary authority" at the end of the table to arrive at the total amount reported in Table 8.1 as International organizations (net). In addition, Table 8.15 presents additional disclosure of information related to subscriptions to the capital of international development institutions.

⁽²⁾ Commitments to the institutions will require future "Maintenance of value" payments.

According to the Articles of Agreement of the World Bank, countries are obliged to maintain the value of certain portions of their paid-in capital subscriptions and contributions. The World Bank has not had a workable standard of value since 1978 when the formal link between the US dollar and gold was broken. The World Bank agreed not to seek payment of these obligations pending the establishment of a new standard of value for the Bank. Maintenance of value obligations do not exist for International Development Association contributions. In October 1986, the Executive Board agreed upon the "1974 SDR" as a successor standard of value. The 1974 SDR is a fixed US dollar equivalent of the value of the SDR prevailing in 1974 (US $1.20635 = 1 SDR). Maintenance of value payments will be resumed on July 1, 1987. It is expected that other institutions will follow this lead.

⁽³⁾ Canadian currency equivalent of 42,000,000 units of account. One unit = $1.20635 US = $1.1556 Cdn as of May 1979.

⁽⁴⁾ Canadian currency equivalent of 126,000,000 units of account. One unit = $1.20635 US = $1.1556 Cdn as of May 1979.

⁽⁶⁾ Canada's subscription is for 21,782 shares. Payments are accounted for as a proportion of each share.

⁽⁷⁾ Valued at $2,399,316,000 US translated at $1 US = $1.3055 Cdn. This represents approximately 91.31% of the total subscription.

⁽⁸⁾ There are no outstanding subscriptions other than the notes payable in Table 8.14. Accounting is based on dollar values rather than number of shares.

⁽⁹⁾ Subscription and payment authorities are annual budgetary voted items presented in the Finance ministerial section of Volume II, Part I (Section 9).

⁽¹⁰⁾ This represents a commitment by Canada to the capital of the Corporation to be paid by 1990, rather than a "callable" amount.

VETERANS' LAND ACT FUND ADVANCES

Advances have been made, under Parts I and III of the Veterans' Land Act, for the acquisition of land, permanent improvements, removal of encumbrances, purchase of stock and equipment, and protection of security and, under Part II of the Act, for the purchase, subdivision and development of land, and for progress payments to veterans during construction and completion of unfinished houses, after termination of construction contracts, etc. On completion of the construction contract for each house, Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation will place or arrange to have placed, a mortgage on the property and will reimburse the Fund the full cost of that property. The total amount authorized to be outstanding at any time is $605,000,000.

A provision equal to $\frac{1}{10}$ of the benefits to veterans was established each year up to and including 1978-79. Since that time, a forecast of requirements has been performed each year, and provisions are established as necessary. These provisions are charged to budgetary expenditure and credited to the allowance for conditional benefits account. The allowance for conditional benefits account represents the accumulated net provisions for benefits to veterans in the form of forgiveness of loans authorized by the Veterans' Land Act. These benefits come into effect only after certain conditions are fulfilled by the veterans. At the end of 10 years, the conditions having been met, the accumulated provision is charged to the allowance for conditional benefits account, and credited to the veteran's loan account.

Table 8.16 summarizes the balances and transactions for advances to the Veterans' Land Act Fund.

SUPPLEMENTARY STATEMENT

Recorded Uncollected Interest

In accordance with Government's stated accounting policies, interest due but not received is not reported as revenue. In certain cases, this uncollected interest is recorded by being added to the applicable loan and advance account, and credited to an uncollected interest account. Since the Government's policy is to report revenue only as received, the balance of the uncollected interest account is deducted from the loan and advance account, to present it on a net basis.

Table 8.19 reports the balances and transactions for the year in respect of the recorded uncollected interest.

SPECIFIED PURPOSE ACCOUNTS

Specified purpose accounts represent the recorded value of the financial obligations of the Government of Canada in its role as administrator of certain public moneys received or collected for specified purposes, under or pursuant to the legislation, trusts, treaties, undertakings or contracts. These public moneys may be paid out only for the purposes specified in or pursuant to the legislation, trusts, treaties, undertakings or contracts.

Because of the dedicated purposes of these moneys, specific accounts are required to be maintained to provide an accounting mechanism to ensure that the moneys are used only for the purposes for which they were received or collected. Legislation relating to some accounts permits investments to be made and, in certain cases, the balances of the accounts earn interest.

This section gives details of specified purpose accounts on which summary information was given in Sections 1 and 2 of this volume.

Some tables in this section present the continuity of accounts, by showing the opening and closing balances, as well as receipts and other credits, and payments and other charges. In addition, the term "account(s) without current transactions" has been included in some tables, to show the net result of transactions in accounts which were closed out in the previous year.

The financial statements of the Canada Pension Plan Account and the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund, the Government Annuities Account and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (Dependants) Pension Fund, together with the Auditor General's reports thereon, are presented at the end of this section.

Canada Pension Plan Account

The Canada Pension Plan is a compulsory contributory social insurance plan which enables members of the labour force to acquire and retain protection for themselves and their families against loss of income due to retirement, disability or death. Established in 1965, the Plan applies in all parts of Canada, except the Province of Quebec which has a comparable plan.

Under existing arrangements, all benefits and costs incurred in the administration of the program are financed from contributions made by employees, employers and self-employed persons, and the interest earned from the investment of funds.

The Government's financial obligation, as administrator of the Canada Pension Plan, is limited to the balance in the Account.

Table 9.2 presents a summary of the balances and transactions in the Canada Pension Plan Account less investment in securities of the provinces and territories held by the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund.

Receipts and other credits include:

- (a) contributions of: (i) 1.8% of earnings by employees earning over $2,500 for the 1986 calendar year and 1.9% of earnings over $2,500 for the 1987 calendar year, subject to maximum payments of $419.40 for the 1986 calendar year and $444.60 for the 1987 calendar year, with matching contributions by employers and (ii) 3.6% of earnings of self-employed persons over $2,500 for the 1986 calendar year and 3.8% of earnings over $2,500 for the 1987 calendar year, subject to maximum payments of $838.80 for the 1986 calendar year and $889.20 for the 1987 calendar year;
- (b) interest received from securities of the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund, and from the average daily operating balance; and,
- (c) funds received from the federal and provincial governments for securities which have been redeemed.

Payments and other charges include:

- (a) benefits paid under the Canada Pension Plan as retirement pensions, survivors' benefits paid to widows, widowers and orphans, or as lump sum death benefits, and disability pensions and benefits to children of disabled contributors;
- (b) benefits paid and recovered from the Canada Pension Plan, in accordance with an agreement with a province providing a comprehensive pension plan;
- (c) payments that are required to be charged to the Canada Pension Plan Account, in accordance with reciprocal agreements with other countries;
- (d) the costs of administration of the Plan; and,

- (e) funds invested during the year in the securities of the federal, provincial and territorial governments.

When the operating balance exceeds the estimated amount required to meet all payments in the following three-month period, the excess is available for the purchase of securities of the provinces, territories and Canada.

Provinces and territories are advised monthly of the amount of excess moneys in the Canada Pension Plan Account that is available for the purchase of provincial and territorial securities. The amount available to each province and territory is the proportion that contributions made to the Plan during the preceding ten years in respect of employment in the province or territory bears to total contributions. Contributions received in respect of employment from employees outside Canada as well as any excess funds not invested in the securities of the provinces and territories are invested in the special non-marketable bonds of the Government of Canada.

Certain federal employees, such as members of the Canadian Armed Forces, who are resident in the Province of Quebec, contribute to the Canada Pension Plan. The securities of Quebec which are purchased by the Plan relate to the contributions of these employees.

On the Statement of Assets and Liabilities of the Government of Canada, the investment in securities issued by provinces and territories, as charged to the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund, is deducted from the Canada Pension Plan Account. The liability of the Government of Canada of $3,774,113,028 at March 31, 1987 ($2,218,189,834 as at March 31, 1986) is comprised of $1,795,680,000 ($445,190,000 in 1986) in special non-marketable bonds issued to the Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund (Section 12 in this volume) with the balance of $1,978,433,028 ($1,772,999,834 in 1986) being held on deposit in the Consolidated Revenue Fund to cover three months operating costs and the April purchase of securities.

Superannuation Accounts

The Government provides pensions to retired employees or their dependants through pension schemes authorized by the Public Service Superannuation Act, the Canadian Forces Superannuation Act and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Superannuation Act. These pensions are indexed to the cost of living under authority of the Supplementary Retirement Benefits Act. The Government's liabilities in its role as sponsor and administrator of these pension plans in respect of its employees and certain other contributors, are recorded in the relevant superannuation accounts.

Legislation for basic pensions provides for employee contributions (6½% of salary), employer contributions (prior year's employee contributions for members of the Public Service, and approximately 1.8 and 2.0 times current year's employee contributions for members of the Canadian Forces and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police respectively), allocation of interest (average market yield of 20 year Canada bonds weighted by the quarterly excess of receipts over disbursements in the three accounts each quarter over 20 years), and actuarial valuation deficiencies. Legislation for indexing basic pensions does not require actuarial valuations but does provide for additional employee contributions (1% of salary), matching employer contributions and allocation of interest (current rate of 5 year Canada bonds).

Receipts and other credits for the superannuation accounts consist of contributions from personnel, related contributions from the Government and participating Public Service corporations, transfers from other pension funds, other Government contributions related to actuarial liability adjustments (not applicable to the Supplementary Retirement Benefits Account), and interest. Payments and other charges for the superannuation accounts consist of payments of pensions, minimum benefits, cash termination allowances (lump sum payments to employees suffering a disability), refunds of contributions and transfers to other plans.

The Public Pensions Reporting Act, as passed by the House of Commons on February 10, 1986, requires that actuarial reviews be conducted at a date not later than four years after the last review date and, thereafter, at dates not more than three years apart, for each of the employer-sponsored pension plans, and the portion of the Supplementary Retirement Benefits Account that relates to these plans. As specified in that Act, the last review dates are deemed to be December 31, 1983 for the Public Service Superannuation Account, December 31, 1983 for the Canadian Forces Superannuation Account, and December 31, 1985 for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Superannuation Account.

In accordance with the legislation governing the basic portion of the three superannuation plans, the Minister of Finance has the authority to direct that any actuarial deficiency found will be credited to the appropriate account, charged to unamortized portion of actuarial deficiencies, and amortized to expenditure in five equal annual instalments commencing in the year in which the actuarial report is laid before Parliament. In addition, the cost of added liabilities, created by the authorization of salary increases each year, is credited to the superannuation accounts, charged to unamortized portion of actuarial deficiencies, and amortized to expenditure over a period of five years commencing in the year in which the increases are authorized.

Since the quarter ending September 30, 1969, the regulations, made pursuant to each of the superannuation acts, have provided for the calculation of interest on the basic accounts at a rate related to the Canada Pension Plan interest rate. The acts further provide that the amount by which the calculated interest rate (currently about 11% per annum) exceeds the amount of interest calculated at the rate used in the latest actuarial report (currently 6.5% per annum for the Public Service, Canadian Forces and Royal Canadian Mounted Police Superannuation Accounts), may be used to reduce the amortization of actuarial deficiency adjustments charged to budgetary expenditure. Any of these interest earnings not needed to reduce amortization charges are credited to the respective Accounts.

Table 9.4 presents a summary of the balances and transactions for the superannuation accounts including the unamortized portion of actuarial deficiencies. Table 9.5 presents an analysis of actuarial deficiency adjustments.

Table 9.6 presents a summary of transactions in the superannuation accounts that resulted in charges to budgetary expenditure. In 1986-87, $6,214 million was charged to budgetary expenditure on account of superannuation plans. This was composed of Government contributions, $813 million; increased superannuation benefits paid during the year due to indexation in excess of the superannuates' share of contributions to the Supplementary Retirement Benefits Account, $784 million; and, interest, $4,617 million ($4,501 million credited to the superannuation accounts and $116 million of interest earnings in excess of 6.5% on the main superannuation accounts which was used to reduce the amortization of actuarial deficiency adjustments).

Supplementary Retirement Benefits Account

This account was established by the Supplementary Retirement Benefits Act, to provide for the payment of increased pension benefits resulting from indexation. Actuarial valuation of the Account is not required by the legislation.

The Chief Actuary of the Department of Insurance has estimated that, after allowing for surpluses (there were no deficits) in the three basic accounts, the actuarial present value of unfunded supplementary retirement benefits, including provision for future indexation, in respect of benefits earned or in pay as at March 31, 1987, was $3.1 billion, or $3.2 billion if the Royal Canadian Mounted Police plan which has no net unfunded supplementary retirement benefits is excluded. This amount is based on dynamic economic assumptions which incorporate the current high interest rates (the interest rate was assumed to decrease from a level of 10% in 1987 to 6% for 2006 and subsequent years) as well as current price and salary increase levels, which were gradually linked with ultimate or long-term economic assumptions of 6% for interest, 5% for wages and an inflation rate of 3.5%.

Increased superannuation benefits paid during the year due to indexation amounted to $821 million ($762 million in 1985-86), of which $784 million ($735 million in 1985-86) represents benefits to superannuates in excess of their share of contributions to the account which has been charged to budgetary expenditure. The payments charged to budgetary expenditure on behalf of contributors amounted to $476 million ($453 million in 1985-86) for the Public Service Superannuation Account of which it is estimated that $38 million ($36 million in 1985-86) pertains to former employees of Public Service corporations, $286 million ($262 million in 1985-86) for the Canadian Forces Superannuation Account, and $22 million ($20 million in 1985-86) for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Superannuation Account. An amount of $37 million ($27 million in 1985-86) was charged to the Supplementary Retirement Benefits Account.

Government Annuities Account

This account was established by the Government Annuities Act, and modified by the Government Annuities Improvement Act, which discontinued sales of annuities in 1975. The account is valued on an actuarial basis each year, with the deficit or surplus charged or credited to the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

The purpose of the Government Annuities Act was to assist Canadians to provide for their later years, by the purchase of Government annuities. The Government Annuities Improvement Act increased the rate of return and flexibility of Government annuity contracts.

Receipts and other credits consist of premiums received, funds reclaimed from the Consolidated Revenue Fund for previously unlocated annuitants, earned interest and items transferred from previous years' revenue to cover the actuarial deficit. Payments and other charges represent matured annuities, the commuted value of death benefits, premium refunds and withdrawals, and actuarial surpluses and unclaimed items transferred to non-tax revenue. The amounts of unclaimed annuities, related to annuitants who cannot be located, are transferred to non-tax revenue.

Deposit and Trust Accounts

Deposit and trust accounts is a group of liabilities representing the Government's financial obligations in its role as administrator of certain moneys that it has received or collected for specified purposes and that it will pay out accordingly. To the extent that the funds received are represented by securities, these are deducted from the corresponding accounts to show the Government's net liability.

Table 9.11 presents a summary of the balances and transactions in deposit and trust accounts.

Provincial Tax Collection Agreements Account

This account records income taxes collected by the Government of Canada on behalf of provinces and territories participating in the joint-collection provision of the Federal-Provincial Fiscal Arrangements Act, and related payments made to them.

Under the Federal-Provincial Fiscal Arrangements Act, the Government of Canada is empowered to enter into agreements with provincial and territorial governments, to collect income taxes on their behalf, and to make payments to them with respect to such taxes.

The Government of Canada entered into agreements with provinces and territories (Quebec excepted), to collect individual income tax, and, with provinces and territories (Ontario and Quebec excepted), to collect corporation income tax, and, to pay in equal monthly instalments to such provinces and territories, the estimated revenue to be produced by the respective provincial and territorial taxes.

At the beginning of each year, the Minister of Finance estimates the amount of the payments, for the taxation year ending in that year, to provinces and territories that have entered into agreements. These estimates are adjusted to actual amounts at a later date. Adjustments are to be made not later than March 31 of the year following that in which the taxation year ends.

Table 9.14 presents a summary of the balances and transactions in the provincial tax collection agreements account.

NOTES TO STATEMENTS FOR THE YEAR ENDED MARCH 31, 1987

1. Plan description and authority

The Canada Pension Plan (the Plan) is a compulsory and contributory social insurance plan which enables members of the labour force to acquire and retain protection for themselves and their families against loss of income due to retirement, disability or death. The Plan applies in all parts of Canada, except for the Province of Quebec which has a parallel plan.

Under existing arrangements, all benefits and all costs incurred in the administration of the Plan are financed by the contributions made by employees, employers and self-employed persons and the interest earned from the investment of funds.

The Canada Pension Plan Account (the Account) was established in the accounts of Canada by Section 110.(1) of the Canada Pension Plan, a 1965 Act of Parliament, to record the contributions, interest, benefits and expenses of the Plan.

The Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund (the Fund) was established in the accounts of Canada by Section 111.(1) of the Plan to record the investment in securities of the provinces, territories and Canada.

2. Accounting policies

Canada Pension Plan Account

The amounts credited and charged to the Account are in accordance with Sections 110.(2) and 110.(3) of the Plan, respectively. Contributions, interest and benefits are recorded on a cash basis. Contributions are received from Revenue Canada—Taxation based on estimates of collections for the current year and adjustments to the estimates of prior years. Expenses are recorded on an accrual basis. The balance in the Account represents the accumulated excess of contributions and interest over benefits and expenses to date.

Canada Pension Plan Investment Fund

The amounts charged and credited to the Fund are in accordance with Section 111.(2) of the Plan. All securities held are carried at cost, are non-negotiable and have a term of 20 years or such lesser period as may be determined by the Minister of Finance on the recommendation of the Chief Actuary of the Department of Insurance.

4. Expenses

Expenses of the Account represent the costs of administration charged by six federal government departments: Revenue Canada—Taxation (collection of contributions); Health and Welfare (administration); Supply and Services (cheque issue and computer services); Public Works (accommodation); Employment and Immigration (assignment of social insurance numbers and maintenance of central index); and Insurance (actuarial services).

5. Investment in securities

Operating balances on deposit with the Receiver General in excess of estimated cash requirements for the following three-month period are available for purchases of securities of the provinces and Canada. The monies available for securities purchases are allocated to the provinces based on the proportion of contributions credited to the Account during the preceding 10 years in respect of employment in a given province to the total contributions in those years. The portion attributed to employment in the Yukon Territory and Northwest Territories was, until December 31, 1986, invested in securities of Canada. With effect from January 1, 1987 the territories may issue securities on the same proportionate basis as the provinces. The portion attributed to certain other employees outside Canada continues to be invested in securities of Canada.

The securities of Quebec relate to the contributions of certain federal employees, such as members of the Canadian Armed Forces, who are residents in the Province of Quebec.

6. Financing of the Plan

When the Plan was introduced, the combined employer-employee contribution rate was set at 3.6% of the contributory earnings with the understanding that this would be sufficient to meet the cost of benefits and administration for a certain period of time but not indefinitely. In the initial years, a fund would be built up from which resources would be used to purchase securities of the provinces and, to a much lesser extent, securities of Canada as described in Note 5. However, since inception of the Plan, it has been recognized that the 3.6% contribution rate would need to be raised.

Under existing legislation, any proposed enactment to alter the general level of benefits or the rate of contributions requires agreement by at least two-thirds of the 10 provinces having an aggregate of not less than two-thirds of the population.

During the year, the Canada Pension Plan was amended (Bill C-116) and, with effect from January 1, 1987, a long-term financing philosophy was established setting out provisions for the timing, rate of increase of the contribution rates and amendments thereto which will be made by regulation.

The revised legislation now contains a 25 year schedule of contribution rates providing for an increase from the 1986 rate of 3.6% progressively by 0.2 percentage points each year until 1991 and by 0.15 percentage points thereafter until 2011 when it will reach 7.6%. However, it stipulates that every five years the Minister of Finance and ministers of the Crown from the included provinces shall review the contribution rates set out in the schedule and make recommendations as to whether those rates should be changed and as to whether the schedule should be amended to include contribution rates for an additional five years. If, for any reason, the schedule is not amended for the additional five years the Minister of Finance shall, by regulation, amend the schedule to include the contribution rates set out in the most recent report prepared by the Chief Actuary. By the year 2011, it is expected that the Plan's Account will be equivalent to approximately two years' expenditure of the Plan and will be maintained near that level in accordance with the provisions of Section 114.1(4)(c) of the revised legislation.

The Chief Actuary's Report No 10 containing his examination of the financial impact of the legislative changes was tabled in Parliament in October 1986.

7. Other significant changes

In addition to the financing provisions described in Note 6, Bill C-116 also introduced the following changes: a flexible retirement provision starting at the age of 60; increased disability and combined benefit payments; additional benefits for dependent children; the extension of benefits to remarried survivors; the splitting of pension credits to separated couples; and, the assignment of pensions between spouses.

Government Annuities Account

AUDITOR'S REPORT

TO THE MINISTER OF EMPLOYMENT AND IMMIGRATION

I have examined the balance sheet of the Government Annuities Account as at March 31, 1987 and the statements of operations and actuarial reserves and changes in financial position for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, these financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Account as at March 31, 1987 and the results of its operations and the changes in its financial position for the year then ended in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Further, in my opinion, the transactions of the Account that have come to my notice during my examination of the financial statements have, in all significant respects, been in accordance with section 15 of the Government Annuities Act and Regulations and section 15 of the Government Annuities Improvement Act.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
MARCH 31, 1987 (in thousands of dollars)

1. Authority and purpose

The Government Annuities Account was established in 1908 by the Government Annuities Act, R.S.C. c. G-6, (the "Act"), and modified by the Government Annuities Improvement Act, S.C. 1974-75-76, c. 83, (the "Improvement Act").

The purpose of the Act was to assist individuals and groups of Canadians to provide for their later years by purchasing Government annuities. The Improvement Act increased the rate of return on Government annuity contracts to a rate of seven percent, increased their flexibility and discontinued future sales.

The Account is administered by the Canada Employment and Immigration Commission and operates through the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

2. Significant accounting policies

(a) Basis of accounting

The accounts of the Government Annuities Account are maintained on an accrual basis.

(b) Actuarial reserves

Actuarial reserves comprise: (i) in respect of unmaturing annuities, accumulated premiums and accrued interest, and (ii) in respect of matured annuities, the present value of such annuities actuarially determined on the basis of such rate or rates of interest and mortality tables as is prescribed.

(c) Actuarial surplus due to Canada

If at the end of any fiscal year the recorded amount of actuarial reserves exceeds or is less than the calculated amount of actuarial reserves, the difference results in an actuarial surplus or deficit which is remitted to or recovered from the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

(d) Interest from Canada

Interest from Canada is calculated on actuarial reserves as prescribed by the Improvement Act.

(e) Unclaimed annuities

Unclaimed annuities represent amounts transferred to the Consolidated Revenue Fund in respect of annuities that could not be paid because the annuitants could not be located.

(f) Services provided without charge

Administrative services are provided to the Account by the Canada Employment and Immigration Commission and by other Government departments without charge.

3. Actuarial reserves

The method utilized to calculate the actuarial reserves of $1,022,332 (1986—$1,056,855) is in accordance with subsection 15(1) of the Government Annuities Improvement Act, S.C. 1974-75-76, c. 83 and the Regulations pertaining thereto.

Government Annuities Account—ConcludedNOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
MARCH 31, 1987—Concluded

The Government Annuities Regulations provide that the Mortality Tables to be used in the preparation of tables for determining the values of annuities shall be the Annuity Table for 1949 (without projection) for males and females and modified by Projection Scale C.

Mortality statistics in the last decade have shown that life expectancy has increased at a faster rate than that provided by Projection Scale C. Should this trend continue at the same rate in the future, the 1949 Mortality table adjusted by Projection Scale C may need to be modified and could result in a potential additional liability that would impact future actuarial reserves. The Commission undertakes an annual review of mortality in the preceding five year period to monitor the appropriateness of Projection Scale C for valuation purposes. The results of the 1986-87 study indicate that Projection Scale C continues to be appropriate.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police (Dependants) Pension Fund

AUDITOR'S REPORT

TO THE SOLICITOR GENERAL OF CANADA

I have examined the statement of revenues and expenditures and fund balance of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police (Dependants) Pension Fund for the year ended March 31, 1987. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, this financial statement presents fairly the revenues and expenditures of the Fund and its balance for the year ended March 31, 1987 in accordance with the basis of accounting set out in Note 2 to the financial statement applied, after giving retroactive effect to the changes in the basis of accounting as explained in Note 3 to the financial statement, on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENT MARCH 31, 1987

1. Authority and operations

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police (Dependants) Pension Fund was established in 1934 by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Pension Continuation Act. The Act provides for members of the Force, other than commissioned officers, appointed before March 1, 1949, to purchase certain survivorship benefits for their dependants by payment of specified contributions. The Fund is credited with these contributions together with interest computed quarterly on the balance to the credit of the Fund at the end of the preceding quarter, and charged with contributions withdrawn and pensions. All transactions of the Fund are made through the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

Section 56 of the Act directs the Minister of Finance to have an actuarial valuation of the Fund made at least once every 5 years. If the actuarial valuation discloses a surplus, the Governor in Council may, by order, increase pensions. If there is an actuarial deficiency, the Governor in Council may direct that there be credited to the Fund, out of any unappropriated moneys in the Consolidated Revenue Fund, such amount as may be required to re-establish solvency of the Fund.

2. The Statement of Revenue, Expenditure and Fund Balance has been prepared using the following accounting policies:

Revenues

Revenues are generally accounted for in the year in which they are received, in accordance with the Government of Canada accounting policies.

Expenditures

Expenditures are recorded on an accrual basis, in accordance with the Government Payables At Year End accounting policy.

3. Changes in the basis of accounting

Commencing April 1, 1986, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police have changed the basis of accounting in order to comply with the Government of Canada stated accounting policies:

- Revenues, formerly accounted for on a cash basis are now recorded using the stated accounting policies of the Government of Canada;
- Expenditures, formerly accounted for in the year in which they were paid, are now recorded in accordance with the Government Payables At Year End accounting policy.

For comparison purposes, the change in the basis of accounting has been applied retroactively to 1986. As a result of these changes, the excess of revenue over expenditure and the fund balance for 1987 and 1986 have been decreased by $47,687 and $139,005 respectively.

4. Supplementary information

The most recent actuarial valuation was made as at March 31, 1986. The valuation disclosed an actuarial surplus of $2,598,443. A portion of the surplus has been distributed by an increase in the basic pension amount of 30% as at April 1, 1986 and an increase of 15% will be effective April 1, 1987 and April 1, 1988 respectively.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE ACCOUNTS

Foreign exchange accounts represent financial claims and obligations of the Government of Canada which are identified with Canada's foreign exchange operations. Financial claims and obligations denominated in foreign currencies are reported at Canadian dollar equivalents at March 31. Net gains resulting from the translation of the net assets denominated in foreign currencies, to Canadian dollar equivalents as at March 31, are credited to revenue as premium and discount on exchange, and net losses are charged to budgetary expenditure of the Department of Finance.

Table 11.1 presents the continuity of each foreign exchange account, by showing the opening and closing balances, as well as receipts and other credits, and payments and other charges. It should be noted, however, that this table excludes unmatured debt payable in foreign currencies, amounting to $11,997 million as at March 31, 1987 ($13,797 million as at March 31, 1986); details relating to these obligations are presented in Section 12 of this volume.

International Reserves Held in the Exchange Fund Account

This account records the moneys advanced from the Government of Canada to the Exchange Fund Account, in Canadian and other currencies, for the purchase of gold, foreign currencies and securities, and Special Drawing Rights (SDRs).

The Exchange Fund Account is operated under the provisions of the Currency Act. In accordance with this Act, audited financial statements for the Exchange Fund Account are prepared for each calendar year. The financial statements as at December 31, 1986, together with the Auditor General's report thereon, are found at the end of this section.

Foreign exchange reserves, rather than the outstanding advances to acquire such reserves, are reported on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. Accordingly, all investment income or losses and valuation gains or losses are recognized in the accounts of Canada as either revenue or expenditure of the current year rather than being taken into revenue or expenditure in three equal portions over the current and two succeeding years.

Table 11.2 shows foreign exchange reserves held by and advances to the Exchange Fund Account as at March 31, 1987. Gold held by the Account is valued at 35 SDRs per fine ounce ($58.74 Cdn as at March 31, 1987 and $55.61 Cdn as at March 31, 1986).

In 1986-87, payments and other charges consisted of advances to the Exchange Fund Account in the amount of $31,770.6 million, a valuation adjustment of $467.8 million, and an adjustment of $471 million due to recognition of international reserves held in the Exchange Fund Account. Receipts and other credits consisted of repayments of advances of $27,450.9 million and a valuation adjustment of $504.5 million.

International Monetary Fund—Subscriptions

This account records the value of Canada's subscription (its "quota") to the capital of the International Monetary Fund (IMF).

The amount by which the sum of Canada's subscriptions plus loans to the IMF under special facilities exceeds the IMF's holdings of Canadian dollars represents the amount of foreign exchange which Canada is entitled to draw from the IMF on demand for balance of payments purposes. The subscription is expressed in terms of the SDR, a unit of account defined in terms of a "basket" of five major currencies.

Canada has accumulated its subscriptions through settlements to the IMF in Canadian dollars, gold and SDRs. Annual maintenance of value payments are made to, or received from, the IMF when the Canadian dollar depreciates or appreciates against the SDR, in order to maintain the SDR-value of the IMF's holdings of Canadian dollars. In 1986-87, payments and other charges consisted of a maintenance of value adjustment of $155.6 million and a valuation adjustment of $110.4 million.

International Monetary Fund—Notes Payable

This account records non-marketable, non-interest bearing notes issued by the Government of Canada to the IMF. These notes are payable on demand and are subject to redemption or re-issue, depending on the needs of the IMF for Canadian currency.

Canadian dollar holdings of the IMF include these notes and a small working balance (initially equal to one-quarter of one percent of Canada's subscription) held on deposit at the Bank of Canada. In 1986-87, notes payable to the IMF increased by $360.2 million.

Special Drawing Rights Allocations

This account records the value of SDRs allocated to Canada by the IMF. The Special Drawing Right is an international currency created by the IMF, and allocated to countries participating in its Special Drawing Rights Department. It represents a liability of Canada, as circumstances could arise whereby Canada could be called upon to repay these allocations, in part or in total.

As an asset, SDRs represent rights to purchase currencies of other countries participating in the IMF's Special Drawing Rights Department, as well as to make payments to the IMF itself. All SDRs allocated to Canada by the IMF have either been used to settle subscriptions in the IMF, or have been advanced to the Exchange Fund Account.

There was no allocation of SDRs by the IMF to Canada during the year. In 1986-87, receipts and other credits consisted of a valuation adjustment of $69.8 million.

SUPPLEMENTARY STATEMENT

Exchange Fund Account

AUDITOR'S REPORT

TO THE MINISTER OF FINANCE

I have examined the balance sheet of the Exchange Fund Account as at December 31, 1986 and the statement of income for the year then ended. My examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests and other procedures as I considered necessary in the circumstances.

In my opinion, the Exchange Fund Account for the year ended December 31, 1986 was in compliance, in all significant respects, with applicable provisions of the Currency Act, R.S., c. C-39, as amended.

Further, in my opinion, the financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Exchange Fund Account as at December 31, 1986 and the results of its operations for the year then ended in accordance with the accounting policies set out in Note 2 to the financial statements applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

DECEMBER 31, 1986

1. Authority and objective

The Account is governed by Part II of the Currency Act, R.S., c. C-39, as amended (the Act). The Account is in the name of the Minister of Finance and is administered by the Bank of Canada as fiscal agent. The Account is funded by advances from the Consolidated Revenue Fund (CRF) which are limited to Cdn $10 billion by Order in Council dated March 1, 1979 and are not subject to interest. The loss or net income for the year is chargeable or payable to the CRF within three months after the end of the year.

The main objective of the Account is to aid in the control and protection of the external value of the Canadian dollar and the Minister acquires for the Account those assets which are deemed appropriate for this purpose in accordance with the Act.

2. Accounting policies

Valuation of assets

US dollar securities, Special Drawing Rights (SDRs) and International Monetary Fund (IMF) notes are adjusted for amortized premiums and discounts where applicable, and include accrued interest. Gold includes gold loans and accrued interest on gold loans. Under the Currency Act, the Minister of Finance determines the gold valuation policy of the Account (Note 6). Cash and short-term deposits include accrued interest where applicable.

Translation of foreign currencies and SDRs

Assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into Canadian dollars at the year-end exchange rates in the Canadian foreign exchange market.

Assets and liabilities denominated in SDRs are first translated into US dollars at the year-end US dollar value of the SDR, as calculated by the IMF, and then into Canadian dollars. Investment income in foreign currencies is translated into Canadian dollars at the foreign exchange rates prevailing on the date the income is recorded. The assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies and SDRs have been translated into Canadian dollars at the following year-end exchange rates:

	1986	1985
US dollar.....	1.3805	1.3983
Japanese yen.....	0.008736	0.006993
Swiss franc.....	0.8572	0.6803
Special Drawing Right.....	1.68861	1.53592
Deutsche mark.....	0.7191	0.5730

Investment income

Investment income is recorded on an accrual basis and includes interest earned, amortization of premiums and discounts, and gains and losses on the sale of securities.

Valuation gains and losses

Valuation gains and losses include the increases and decreases in the value of assets and liabilities arising from the translation of foreign currencies and SDRs during the year and at year end. Valuation gains and losses also include gains or losses on transactions in foreign currencies, SDRs and gold, and on the liquidation of liabilities. In accordance with the provisions of the Act, valuation gains and losses for the year are taken into income in three equal portions over the current and two succeeding years.

Operating expenses

The Bank of Canada provides, without charge, the administrative, custodial and fiscal agency services to carry out the objectives of the Account.

These notes represent Canada's participation in the Supplementary Financing Facility established to assist members of the IMF with balance of payments needs. The notes were acquired in 1983 and 1984 and have original terms to maturity of five years. They are redeemable on demand if Canada represents that it has a balance of payments need and are transferable to other members.

	(in millions of US dollars)
Gold and gold loans	844.5	773.0
Accrued interest on gold loans	0.3	0.1
	844.8	773.1

Gold is valued in the Account at 35 SDRs per fine ounce, which approximates its historical cost in foreign currency terms. In keeping with the method of valuation used for other assets, gold holdings were translated into

US dollars at the year-end US dollar value of the SDR, and to a Canadian dollar equivalent at the year-end exchange rate for the US dollar.

The book value, market value (as recorded at the London fixings) and approximate Canadian dollar historical cost of gold and gold loans at historical rates of exchange, excluding accrued interest on gold loans, at year end are:

	1986		1985
	Per fine ounce	Total in millions	Per fine ounce	Total in millions

Approximate historical cost — $ Cdn	36.91	728.0	36.91	742.1

The Minister of Finance has authorized loans and/or sales, at market related prices, of part of the gold held by the Account, to the Royal Canadian Mint and others. At year end, the Account's gold holdings included gold loans of 1,118 thousand (1985—1,174 thousand) fine ounces.

7. Official international reserve assets

The Account is the principal repository of Canada's official international reserves. The remainder of Canada's international reserves are held by the Bank of Canada and the CRF and are not reflected in the statements of the Account.

8. Provision for valuation gains on uncompleted contracts

At year end, the Account had uncompleted foreign exchange transactions and swaps. As the exchange rates on these uncompleted contracts differ from the year-end rates at which the Account's assets and liabilities are valued, additional valuation gains or losses will occur upon settlement. The provision for valuation gains on uncompleted contracts arises from the revaluation of such contracts using the year-end rates of exchange and represents the portion of future net gains or losses attributed to the current year.

Under swap arrangements with the Bank of Canada, the Account sells US dollars to the Bank and agrees to repurchase these amounts at the same exchange rates at which they were sold. These contracts are undertaken to assist in the Bank's cash management operations. Outstanding swaps with the Bank of Canada at year end amounted to US $760 million (Cdn $1,049 million) (1985—nil).

The borrowings have included foreign security and note issues and bank loans, as well as drawings under Standby Credit Arrangements with Canadian and foreign banks. Redemptions of such borrowings are made using the resources of the Account. Interest payable by Canada on borrowings in foreign currencies is charged directly to the CRF.

Notes:—This table includes unmatured debt issued by the Government of Canada. Borrowings of agent Crown corporations which are unconditional obligations of the Government, but not included in unmatured debt, can be found in Table 12.11.

—Starting in 1986-87, all instalment purchases (payroll deductions) of Canada savings bonds by Government employees are deducted from the applicable "Government's holdings of unmatured debt" account. Such instalment purchases were previously reported as a deposit account under Section 9 of this volume. Figures for the previous year have been adjusted retroactively.

Marketable Bonds

Marketable bonds are interest-bearing certificates of indebtedness issued by the Government of Canada, and have the following characteristics:

- bought and sold on the open market;
- payable in Canadian or foreign currency;
- subject to call or redemption before maturity;
- fixed dates of maturity;
- interest payable either in coupon or registered form; and,
- face value guaranteed at maturity.

Registered marketable bonds are transferable by endorsement and delivery by one holder to another. Bearer marketable bonds need not be endorsed.

Table 12.2 presents a summary of the balances and transactions for marketable bonds. Since most of the marketable bonds are not subject to call or redemption before maturity, exceptions only are noted in the table.

The year-end balances of marketable bonds payable in foreign currencies were translated into Canadian dollars using the closing rates of exchange at March 31, 1987.

⁽²⁾ Exchangeable at the option of the holder for an equal par value bond bearing the same interest rate.

⁽³⁾ Subject to redemption before maturity.

⁽⁴⁾ While the terms of the issue remain unaltered from the bondholders' perspective, the Government's Japanese yen liability was converted through a "currency swap" into a floating rate U.S. dollar liability which is based on 6-month London Inter-bank Offered Rate (LIBOR).

Cash in hands of collectors and in transit

This account records public moneys received by public officers prior to April 1, but not deposited to the credit of the Receiver General for Canada in the Bank of Canada, before that date.

Moneys received after March 31 but applicable to the current year

Public moneys received after March 31, but applicable to the year just ended, are recorded in this account.

This account includes refunds of old year expenditure received prior to the closing of the accounts, and receipts to be credited to asset, liability, and (in exceptional cases) revenue accounts, where the omission of the credits in the old year would tend to make the accounting incomplete or inconsistent.

Cash in Transit

Table 13.1 presents a summary of the balances and transactions for cash in transit.

Cash

The Government's cash account represents public moneys on deposit at March 31, to the credit of the Receiver General for Canada, with the Bank of Canada, chartered banks and other financial institutions.

The cash position of the Government is affected not only by budgetary transactions, but also by non-budgetary, foreign exchange and unmatured debt transactions, all of which must be taken into account when considering the full scope of the Government's financial operations.

Table 13.2 presents a summary of the balances and related transactions in current and special Receiver General deposits.

The year-end balances denominated in foreign currencies have been translated into Canadian dollar equivalents at year-end closing rates of exchange. Foreign currencies held include United Kingdom pounds sterling, United States dollars, Belgian, Swiss and French francs, West German marks, and Japanese yen.

Receiver General current deposits

The monthly balances of Canadian and foreign currency deposits for the last five years are presented in the following tables:

Receiver General special deposits

These are balances in the hands of fiscal agents of the Government, for the purchase or redemption of Government securities, and for the payment of interest.

Fixed Assets

Fixed assets are tangible, durable items of value, including major additions or alterations thereto, from which benefits are expected to be derived during their useful lives.

The fixed assets of the Government, which include land, engineering structures and works (such as canals, harbours and roads), buildings, and machinery and equipment, are charged to budgetary expenditure at the time of acquisition or construction, in accordance with the accounting policies of the Government of Canada which are described in Note 1 to the audited financial statements (Section 2 of this volume). Their existence, however, is acknowledged on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities by reporting them at the nominal value of $1.

Accumulated Deficit

The accumulated deficit is the account recording the net sum of annual deficits and surpluses of the Government of Canada since Confederation, together with certain amounts charged or credited directly to this account. The accumulated deficit is also equal to the excess of recorded liabilities over total financial assets.

A Statement of Revenue and Expenditure and Accumulated Deficit is published in Section 2 of this volume.

A five year comparative statement of the accumulated deficit, in terms of total liabilities and total financial assets, is presented as follows:

OTHER INFORMATION

Contingent Liabilities

A contingent liability is a potential liability which may become an actual liability when one or more future events occur or fail to occur.

The Government of Canada as an accounting entity is defined as all the departments named in Schedule A of the Financial Administration Act; any division or branch of the Public Service of Canada, including a commission appointed under the Inquiries Act, designated by the Governor in Council as a department for purposes of the Financial Administration Act; the staffs of the Senate, the House of Commons, and the Library of Parliament; and, any corporation named in Schedule B of the Financial Administration Act. Corporations listed in Parts I and II of Schedule C of the Financial Administration Act, and those Crown corporations that are not subject to the Financial Administration Act, are excluded from this definition. Information regarding contingent liabilities of Crown corporations can be found in Table 8.10—"Contingent Liabilities of Crown Corporations", while details of their borrowings can be found in Tables 8.7 and 8.8—"Borrowings by Agent Crown Corporations" and "Borrowings by Crown Corporations" respectively. Some Crown corporations also operate insurance programs. Information regarding these insurance programs can be found in Table 13.7 of this section.

The contingent liabilities of the Government comprise explicit guarantees by the Government, which include borrowings by other than Crown corporations, both from agent Crown corporations and from other than agents. Such explicit guarantees consist of guarantee programs of the Government, explicit guarantees by the Government for loans, financial arrangements and other potential liabilities, insurance programs of the Government and other explicit guarantees. They also comprise potential losses arising from pending and threatened litigation relating to claims and assessments in respect of breach of contract, damages to persons and property, and like items. Pending and threatened litigation is reported in total in the following table. This table is also summarized in Note 18 to the audited financial statements of the Government in Section 2 of this volume.

(1) Represents the average percentage over the most recent 5 years of net claims to the average amount of outstanding guarantees for the same period computed as at March 31, 1987. In some situations where historical data is not readily available, departmental estimates have been used.

(2) Includes committed guarantees for the following loans to be made: to Indians for on-reserve housing, $51,658,383; for Indian economic development, $414,579. As at March 31, 1987, no loans had been issued for these amounts.

(3) Letters of comfort have been issued by the Minister of Finance to the Bank of Canada with respect to funds advanced or guarantees provided by the Bank of Canada to the Bank for International Settlements (BIS). The letters pertain to BIS standby credit facilities in favour of the International Monetary Fund (IMF) and a short-term bridge financing operation in favour of Argentina. The Government's potential liability and actual exposure on behalf of the IMF at March 31, 1987 amounted to 171.6 million Special Drawing Rights ($220,600,000 US) and $30,000,000 US to Argentina.

(4) The Act places limits on the maximum amount of guarantee for loans made by eligible lenders over different loan periods. The maximum amount of guarantee per lender is expressed in legislation as a percentage of aggregate loans made to qualified borrowers and varies depending upon the dollar value range of aggregate loans made by the lender. The authorized limits for given loan periods are included in the figure reported until all qualified loans made by all eligible lenders in the given periods are no longer outstanding, and are not adjusted for loan repayments nor payments made by the Government for guaranteed amounts in which default has occurred.

(5) Includes $1,786,474 attributable to the Canadian Industrial Renewal Board and $2,930,800 to the Atlantic enterprise program.

(6) Amount denominated wholly or partially in a foreign currency and translated at the closing rate of exchange as at date of statement.

(7) Authorized limit for loan guarantees for on-reserve housing totals $350,000,000 (shown above) for loans made by the Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation, the Farm Credit Corporation and other approved lenders.

(8) The Export Development Act (EDA) authorizes the Export Development Corporation (EDC) to make various loans and commitments to foreign borrowers on behalf of the Government of Canada to a maximum limit of $6 billion net of repayments. Included within this limit are outstanding loans made by other lenders who have recourse against EDC in the event of default by the borrower. Accordingly, the authorized limit for lenders with recourse in loans receivable will equate to the actual amount of contingent liability reported in accordance with the requirements of the EDA.

(9) Includes committed guarantees for loans not yet issued by the lender in the amount of $12,000 as at March 31, 1987.

(10) Authority has been provided but the loan agreement was not signed as at March 31, 1987.

(11) Maislin Industries Ltd was placed in receivership on July 11, 1983 and was declared bankrupt on October 19, 1983. To date, the Government has made interim payments totalling $18,500,000 US to creditors under a guarantee in the amount of $27,000,000 US. It is anticipated that the Government will be called upon to make a final payment of $7,000,000 US to settle remaining obligations to creditors when certain issues are settled in US Bankruptcy Court.

(12) There have been no claims under the Nuclear Liability Act since its inception in 1970. The Act covers 15 Canadian nuclear installations, 9 of which are active, as at March 31, 1987.

(13) The Export Development Act specifies that EDC may enter into contracts of insurance, re-insurance, related guarantees and other agreements up to a maximum of $7 billion, the authorized limit.

(14) The Fishing Vessel Insurance Plan is administered by the Government to assist fishermen to meet abnormal capital losses. A specified purpose account is credited with all amounts received by way of premiums, recoveries and with advances to the fund by the Government, such advances not to exceed $150,000 at any time. The fund is debited with refunds of premiums and payments in settlement of third party vessel collision damage claims against fishermen, where the collision involves a vessel insured under the Plan. As at March 31, 1987, the insured value of vessels under the Plan amounted to $429,860,000; the balance of the fund was $10,931,735 and outstanding claims against the fund totalled $1,050,000.

(15) Less than 0.1%.

(16) The Defence Production Act enables the Minister of the Department of Supply and Services to purchase or otherwise acquire defence supplies to the extent of $100 million in excess of receipts credited to the Defence Production Revolving Fund unless otherwise authorized by Parliament. Accordingly, the authorized limit of this item will equate to the actual amount of contingent liability reported in accordance with total commitments authorized under the Defence Production Act up to the total approved limit.

(17) Includes $1.7 billion related to native statutory and treaty obligations. This amount represents plaintiffs' claims in 46 litigation cases. There are another 96 cases and settlements of Native Land claims currently under negotiation, for which amounts are not stated in the claims, and for which it is not possible to determine the amounts that may be ultimately payable.

(18) Contingent gains. A contingent gain is a potential gain or possible recovery that may become an actuality when one or more future events occur or fail to occur. Two departments reported contingent gains as at March 31, 1987 but an estimate of the amounts involved could not be determined.

Insurance Programs of Agent Crown Corporations

At present, three Crown corporations operate insurance programs as agents of Her Majesty. An insurance program is a program where the insured, an outside party, pays an insurance fee which is credited to an insurance fund or provision operated by the corporation. The amount of the fee is based on the estimated amount of insurance fund or provision needed to meet future claims. Insurance programs operated by private corporations such as employee group insurance, dental plans, etc., are not included in this definition.

The insurance programs are intended to operate on a self-sustaining basis but in recent years, two of the Crown corporations have required loans or other funding from the Government to meet obligations.

Information presented in Table 13.7 has not been audited since the three corporations have financial years other than March 31, 1987. Financial statements of these corporations may be found in Volume III of the Public Accounts.

In Table 13.7, a minus "-" sign preceding the amount reported indicates a fund deficit, an expense recovery or adjustment, or a decrease or loss during the year.

N/A—Not applicable.

(1) The Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation (CDIC) provides insurance on deposits placed with member banks and trust and loan companies for up to $60,000 per depositor per institution. In recent years, premiums paid by member institutions have not been sufficient to meet obligations incurred by CDIC under the insurance plan. This deficiency has been funded in part by loans from the Government of $1,203 million at March 31, 1987 ($935 million at March 31, 1986). Recently, the CDIC Act was amended to increase premiums paid by member institutions from 1/30 of 1% to 1/6 of 1% of insured deposits. In addition, the Government is continuing to explore other alternatives to allow CDIC, over the long run, to eliminate its deficiency without budgetary support from the Government. Since there is no reason to believe that this will not be the case, no provision has been made in the Government's accounts for the losses experienced by CDIC.

(2) Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation administers three funds of which only the Mortgage Insurance Fund (MIF) is active. The MIF provides insurance, for a fee, to private sector lending institutions to cover mortgage lending on Canadian housing. Besides establishing a framework of confidence for mortgage lending by private institutions, the Fund facilitates an adequate supply of mortgage funds by reducing the risk to lenders and by encouraging the secondary market trading of mortgages, all to make housing more accessible for Canadians.

Although the balance of the Fund is currently inadequate to meet future claims in respect to business in force, an actuarial study of the MIF in 1985 indicated that business undertaken since February 1985 is being written on a break-even basis. The actuarial deficiency ($454.3 million as of September 30, 1986) will be reflected in the Government's accounts only to the extent that additional funding of the deficiency from parliamentary appropriations may be required.

(3) The Export Development Corporation (EDC) provides export and foreign investment insurance to Canadian business to facilitate and develop export trade. The insurance fund has been adequate to provide for the full cost of claims experienced to date and to establish an allowance for any future claims based on previous claims experience.

(4) Less than $500,000.

(5) Refers to the difference between claims and amounts received from sales of related assets and other recoveries.

Capital Leases

Table 13.8 provides details of commitments under capital lease arrangements which are summarized in Note 16 to the audited financial statements in Section 2 of this volume. A capital lease is a lease that, from the point of view of the Government, transfers substantially all the benefits and risks incident to ownership of the asset to the Government. Table 13.9 presents commitments under capital lease arrangements in order of maturity. Table 13.10 presents details of purchase options exercised during the year.
